TARTANS

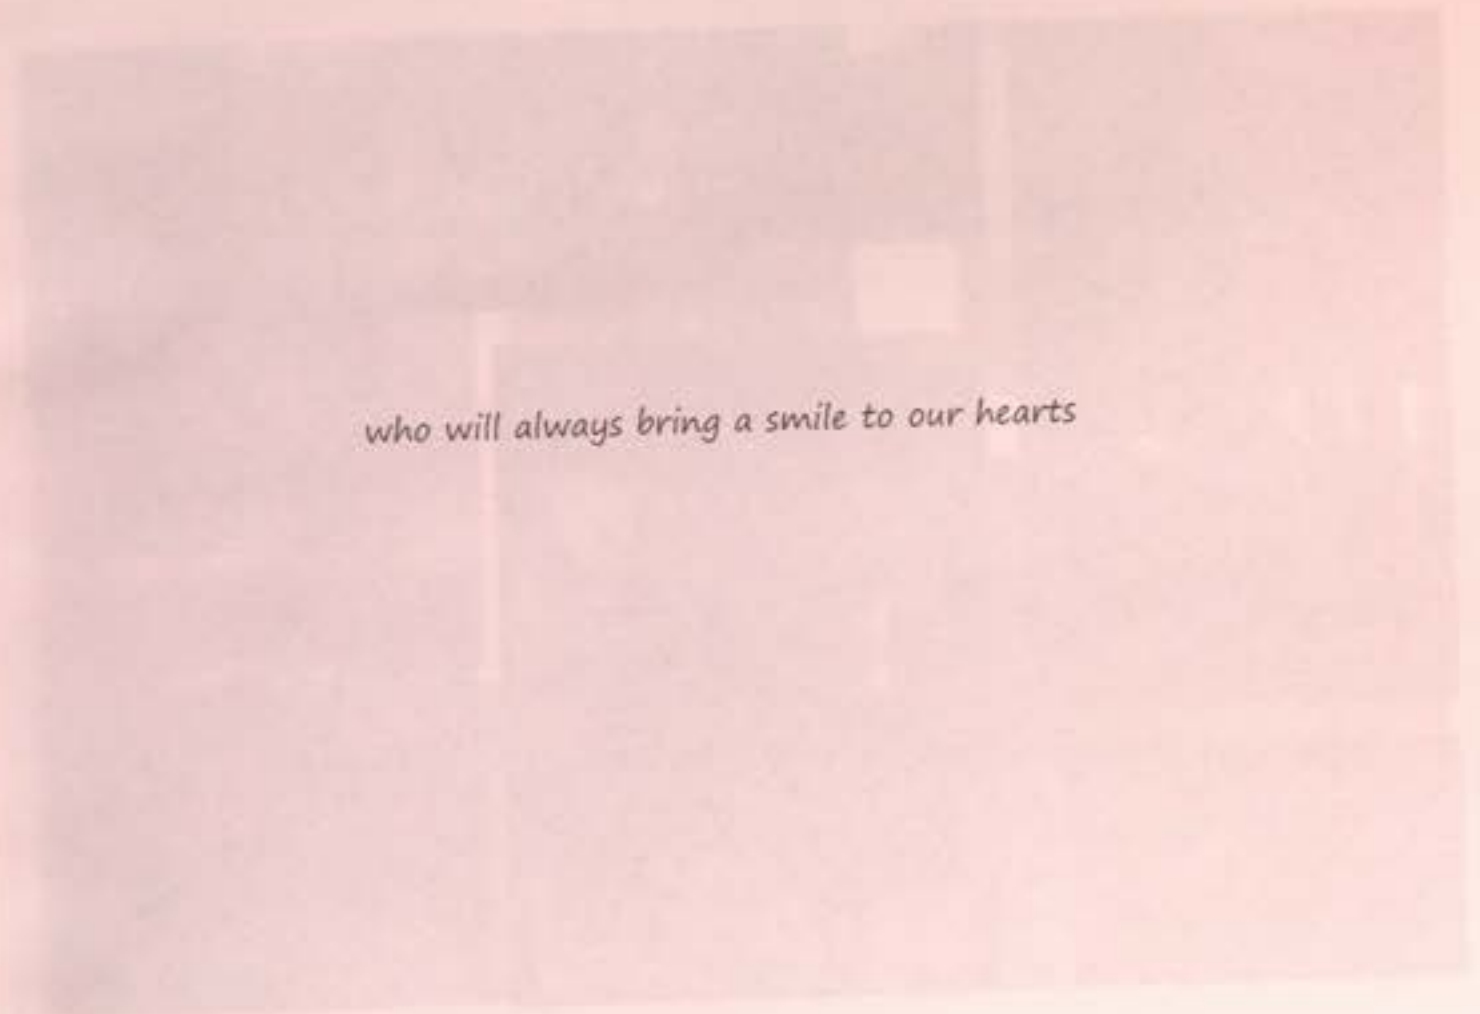

For our Mr. Baxter

"You're going to be a
Toni never has any puzzle pieces"

who will always bring a smile to our hearts

who will always bring a smile to our hearts

"Toni never has any puzzle pieces."

"Velociraptor awareness month!"

"If she wants salad dressing."

"You're going places, kid."

"Nobody ever wants the yogurt."

"It's Shelby's fault."

"Oh for fun."

Prime Minister's Address

It's almost magical, the spirit you feel as you walk through the front doors of Walkerville at just about any time of the day. Maybe you get to school early and your day is immediately brightened by the beautiful music being played by the early morning music class. Or perhaps you arrive late and stop to listen to the announcements that proclaim all of the interesting and fun things that the coming day or week will hold. At any time, whether it's before, during or after school, Walkerville's awesome spirit is tangible. It's something that you can definitely feel and it's always a very warm, welcoming and inclusive feeling; like your home away from home.

But it's not just limited to the special programs we have; it's the people, the events and the talent that all add to our out-of-this-world spirit. This was true for all four years I've been at Walkerville. However, there was something extra special and a little bit different this year.

As I look back on the 2014-15 school year, I realize that this truly was the year of the Tartans. But what exactly is a Tartan? Before you came to Walkerville you may have thought that a Tartan was the pattern people wear or maybe you even thought it was a Scottish warrior - and you would be right on both accounts, but at Walkerville, a Tartan is so much more than that. What makes each and every one of us a Tartan is ultimately the courage, the wide variety of talent, kindness, strength, acceptance and caring that we express and share so generously. A Tartan is spirited, not afraid to show everyone the person they are. A Tartan is open-minded, intelligent, hard-working, and holds great potential and promise. As a whole, a Tartan is an exemplary person, and if you don't believe that... let me prove it to you.

Not only did Walkerville see all of our traditional events this year, as a school, we started a handful of new traditions. Everything from coffee houses to monthly spirit weeks, a spirit competition against Massey (which we obviously won), a new school mascot made by an amazingly talented grade nine student, more pep rallies, increased school spirit and so much more. Agora had an astounding turnout for grade rep elections. In grade nine alone, twenty-three ambitious students ran for grade nine rep... that showed crazy spirit!

We saw a Mini "WE" Day and so many inspiring events from the We Act team (which was also brand new to Walkerville this year). Our Dance Team competed in Niagara Falls for the second year in a row, our band went to New York, and our music, vocal and drama programs had various trips to Toronto and London. Talent and hard work through the school year resulted in impressive wins and accolades at these various out of town performances and competitions! Two successful drama festivals happened at our school this year and we watched in awe as the Jazz Band played all over our city! Back by popular demand, the twenty-four hour art project spawned many innovative and highly creative art works, and art and media students expressed their creativity through highly inventive projects that were showcased in two art shows at ArtSpeak Gallery. This year, Walkerville welcomed back many other events and initiatives, including a successful mental health lock-in, a basketball tournament for the fight against cancer, and popular after-school work-out sessions. We saw Relay for Life come back to our school where over one-hundred Tartans along with King Edward students walked around our field for the day to raise money and awareness in the fight against cancer. We also felt pride as our sports teams played better than ever and enjoyed greater victory.

All of these things greatly influenced the school year and our spirit, but I think one of the biggest things that impacted Walkerville this year was the passing of Mr. Baxter during March Break. You may have known Mr. Baxter as you passed him in the hallway, or you may have spent every spare with him talking about life's issues and playing board games in the Library; regardless of how you knew him, Mr. Baxter touched your life this year. He adored everything about Walkerville! The way the school came together after March Break was outstanding and was exactly what he would have wanted. I have never seen our school so close; we truly became a family this year. The support not only between the students but also between staff and students and staff and staff was inspirational. As a student council, we made sure all of his ideas were incorporated into his master plan of the Carnival. The carnival not only brought the school together but it brought the community together through the GoFundMe website, our corporate sponsorship program and the Carnival event itself. The money we raised will keep Mr. Baxter's legacy alive for years to come both at Walkerville and at the new high school being built in Ethiopia.

You know who did all of this? YOU! Tartans did all of these things with the help of our amazing staff!

There were so many highs and lows throughout the year, but each experience, each situation and each event brought us together more and more each time to truly create the family we are - the Walkerville family.

Yes, as a family we say goodbye to the seniors of 2014/15, but instead of being sad about them moving on, just appreciate what you've learned from them (and follow them on Twitter so you never forget them). As I and my fellow seniors move on, and as the rest of the school welcomes new grade nines, just remember, once a Tartan, always a Tartan!

Looking back at the year, going through this yearbook and reflecting on your own experiences, I hope you agree that this year was truly remarkable in so many ways. As each of us grow older we may not remember who sat next to us in our grade 9 math class, or who painted the best in our art class, and we probably won't even remember the mark we got on that one massive English test. But there's no doubt you will remember the experiences, the events, the memories you made with one another, and the friends that were always there for you to help you celebrate the good times and to help you through the hard times. So for those of you who will continue at our great school, make however many years that you have left at Walkerville memorable ones; participate, make friends, talk to people, work hard, and be the Tartan you truly are. For those of you who are now moving on, remember this year and how it has shaped you into the person you are; let it raise you up as you prepare for the rest of your life!

Thank you Tartans for such an amazing year, and for making Walkerville the best school in the city! GO TARTANS!!

Letter from the Editors

yearbook

Noun: an annual publication giving current information and listing events or aspects of the previous year, especially in a particular field.

As a community, we truly came together and showed that we are not just students at a high school. We are Tartans. Being a Tartan means more than just adopting its name for four years of our lives. It means that we are all a part of a pattern we stitched, and together created a name we all share because we are a part of something as wonderful as this school. Working as editors of the yearbook holds a special place in our hearts. Through it, we have been able to grow as leaders and as people, make amazing friends, and create life-long memories. It has shown us that being a photographer is telling the world that stories matter, and each and every one of you are important. We want to document that.

This year's team, though small but mighty, definitely pulled through. Hopefully you can look back on this book one day and think about all your memories and friends. Thank you to Daytona Hawkins, Caitlyn Cave, Evelyn Juan, Tina Nguyen, Karen Ng, Gabby Last, Mariah DeMarco and Felicia Jackson for all being a part of this year's team. Without you, we wouldn't have gotten this far. To Mrs. Gale, your guidance at the beginning of the year was much appreciated. To Mr. Duncan, a very special thank you goes to you for taking on this task, keeping us organized and letting us create our own vision for the 2014-2015 yearbook. Your patience and dedication to us was something that any committee could hope to have. Thank you, as well, goes to Mr. Garlick, our absolutely amazing principal. Thank you for working with us on making our yearbook brilliant, and thank you for allowing Walkerville's yearbook to finally have senior quotes. All of your work is beyond appreciated.

Last but not least, thank you Tartans for making 2014-2015 a special year for all of us. Whether you were a part of a club, a sports team or the stage, Walkerville will always be here to welcome you home.

And so, we leave you with a quote.

"The most glorious moments in your life are not the so-called days of success, but rather those days when, out of dejection and despair you feel rise in you a challenge to life, and the promise of future accomplishments."

-Gustave Flaubert

All is well,
