Principal's Message

Memories! Reflections! Experiences! Associations!

These are just some of the happenings that will be found between the pages of "Pegasus 1971".

I hope that this book will become a treasured possession for all of those who have a copy.

I would like to congratulate the Editors and all the members of the Pegasus staff for the effort that was displayed in producing "Pegasus '71". Credit is also due to the staff advisors, all the students and teachers who have contributed and made Pegasus such a success.

To all the Massey society whose pictures appear in the Pegasus, best of luck to all of you in the 70's and the future. "This is our school. Hope it stays that way."

Yours sincerely,

S. Krewench

LOST

I have watched a red sun
Angrily disappear
Behind a purple mass of clouds
That contorted the face
Of a frothing sky
But that same sun
I have seen
Creep timidly over the horizon
Its young beams
Quivering over the dormant earth
Then descending decisively
Yet serenely

I watched the eyes of a boy
Radiate an excitement
And passion for life
But those eyes have cooled
And regained the steely grey stare
On the meaningless maze that is called
The World

I have gazed
At turbulent waves
Insanely beating
A vulnerable shore
That only hours before
Had been caressed by their rolling motion

I have watched
Glared
And cried
But never understood
The essence
The pulse of life
My arms have reached out
To evasive walls
Enclosing the misted corridor to Death
But my groping fingers have grasped
Only
The darkness
The nothingness

THOUGHTS ON THE BUS FROM TORONTO

Watching mother and her daughter sitting on the bus
Watching mother tell her daughter not to look at us.

For we look like the nasty type that hitchhike and smoke pot
And we are just the kind of girls that her daughter is not.

We represent a freedom that her mother never had
We represent the kind of things her mother thinks are bad.

To her it's such a crime to be so freaky and so free
But deep inside I think this is the way she wants to be.

It really would be funny if, when she got off the bus
She'd leave her kid there on the seat
To hitchhike home with us.

NOTHING

On a train
Where.
To our destination
From one dead world
To the next.
They say be happy
There is a smile
But in the inner soul
Nothing.
I turn around
In the prisons of ourselves
We cast nothing but Shadows.
There is a line
They draw to divide
And here we sit with Virgin bodies
Untouched.
They say be happy
There is a smile
But in the inner soul.
Nothing.

THE VOICE OF MERCY

What I have never ends,
I cannot lose
an unknown friend.

See my body search for peace,
What I need again,
is a love release.

Sun, air, water; listen
is there anyway,
light can shine down on us and lead us to peace, to stay?

I am safire truth,
Lies aren't as blue.
We all can colour
What really could be true.

Not black vs. white
this blinds God.
Yes, virgin on blue
and peace on our green sod.

Peace is not of night
or of blinded suns,
not somewhere too bright,
but in God's own chosen ones.

Peace is only deaf,
It still can, and will see.
Do you crucify the innocent,
is Jesus make-believe?

This one and only dream
without you is an unplanted seed.
Somehow Jesus will kiss,
the smile of this dying plead.

For I believe
nothing can mislead.
Nothing can fall,
if you have faith in peace.

So cries the only voice of mercy
the voice that cries hope the ears of those who care will hear and in the end,
all crying eyes
will be dried.

I believe!

BLOOD, SWEAT AND TEARS

Last night after dinner, I watched the news on television. I saw a young boy held at gun-point and people standing around him doing nothing because they were afraid. There was a dull thud of a bullet and the boy lurched forward, writhing in pain. The people yelled, "Run kid, run!" but the boy fell to the ground. I saw an ugly, growing blotch of shiny, black blood seep through his white t-shirt. I got a sickening feeling in my stomach. In fact, I cried when I found out that the boy had died. I had watched him die, helpless.

I have heard of many shootings in that city, and I have read of many rapings, stabbings and murders, but the more I hear, the less they bother me. I have come to accept them as everyday occurrences in that city. I am sure that none of us are surprised to hear of at least one killing a day over there. In fact, it is difficult to imagine a quiet day in Detroit City.

Ah, but I should not criticize that fair city! The great Motor City! Home of Motown! Hail to thee great city! As I stand on the bank of the 'once' great river that separates us (and I thank God for that river) I listen to your throbbing beat and I wish that for just one moment you would stand still and listen to what I have to say to you. I HATE YOU! I hate you with every tense fibre of my angry body. I hate every squalid, smoke-stained building on every filthy, garbage-strewn street. I hate every stinking, reeking factory with its giant smoke stacks that belch and spit tons of choking filth into the air. Oh, poisonous, poisoned city! I hate you with a hate that swells and grows each time I hear of another knifing in some sordid, sleazy, smoke-filled bar. The sound of lifeless bodies thudding to grimy floors resounds with hideous regularity in every corner of your wretched city. I've driven through your city on sweltering nights (with my car windows rolled up) and I've seen your streets lined with bars as far as the squinting eye can see. I've felt the stinging, incessant flashing of cheap neon lights that seduce the city's scum into these hideous hovels that sell watered-down alcohol in spit-washed glasses. I've seen the ads displaying cheap, painted, tired-looking women who fling their sweaty bodies in disgusting gestures attempting to allure the drunken, slobbering, red-faced men who line the bars in varying degrees of degeneracy. I shudder to think of the heinous crimes going on in the dingy back-rooms of those God-forsaken places; vile corruption, planning of murders, bartering of mind-rotting drugs and all manner of lecherous evil.

In some dark, gasoline-puddled alley, lies a half-naked, bleeding girl, crying for help. Her cries are acknowledged by 'deaf' ears. Deaf ears of people who just don't want to get involved. Who will be this girl's saviour? A gallant man on a horse? The police? No, this is not the movies. This is real life, life in the big city. The people are real. Their blood is real as it spurts from their wounds; their sweat is real as it pours from their writhing bodies and my tears are real as I cry for them.

RISING SMOKE AND FALLING SAND

My life is just a cigarette
That's burning quickly in my hand
And every puff that I forget
To take is just another grain
of sand

Which, passing through this small, glass channel
Simply serves to tell the time
And that straight line of smoke which rises
Is the outline of my mind -

Whirling up in endless patterns
Through the air, try though it might
To fall - still rising, carried
By the endless heat of burning life.

I watch the smoke go up, and when I move my hand or breath it in
It scatters in the endless air
And gives itself up to the wind.

*You shook the hourglass - you gave me time
And you disturbed the smoke when you walked by.
You took away the rising, perfect line;
Then walked away and left the ash to die.*

And now I sit to wait until the ash
Burns down unto my weary waiting hand
And watch the rising drifts of passing time
And count the very last small grain
of sand.

THE POETRY HOUR

It comes at any time of day, or any time of night
It comes without a warning, it comes without foresight
Arriving like a ray of sunlight that moves across the lawn
And as quickly as its coming, the poetry hour is gone.

But in those precious moments, my mind and heart combine
And weaving words together we write line after line
And as my hand moves 'cross the page, guided by an unseen flow
My being is engulfed within a warm and hazy glow.

Lost within a sea of thoughts, ideas brim and pour
Like frothy water bubbling over, until there is no more.
Then as if I'd just awoke and lights had been switched on
I look around, all is the same, the poetry hour is gone.

DEAR BROTHER

Some fifty million years ago, dear brother,
You were born, they called you man,
Today you died,
you blew your mind:

It was a hell of a lot of fun,
grass,
acid,
speed,

But today you were given a lead,
To the black, velvet-lined box;

You died:

Oh sure, brother it's cool

You ride a purple horse over a chartreuse horizon

You seek your own thing:

But you encountered
A black, timeless void,
called death:

You started with grass
considered undangerous,

But hell you weren't satisfied,
You wanted more kicks,
popped some acid,
shot some speed,

Man you went higher than a kite,
but you never came down,
Until they put you in the ground,

Hey brother, you're proud now,
You're riding double on that purple horse of yours,
you're riding with Hendrix,
Too bad you can't tell nobody,

cause you're

DEAD.

THE MIRRORS OF THE MIND

Yesterday I read a book
And I saw myself.
Today I read a poem
And I saw myself.
I also heard a song
And I saw myself again.

Last night I had a dream
And I saw myself.
I was beautiful, and sophisticated,
And sure of myself and . . .
Everything I had ever wanted to be.
But . . . I knew it wasn't really me.

And then, I saw myself.

THE MIND

In the hidden chambers of the mind
Peace and serenity can be sought
In the dark hours you can render chaos,
Within its desolate dimensions
Each thought is a departure into personal exile,
Which renders you a helpless element in time
To stand supreme in this world,
You must kindle the flame of knowledge
For to expand the mind is a marathon
The competition is hard and heavy
Personal rebellion may undermine your thoughts of peace
So you must hold steadfast and strong
Indecision is a fatality to the mind
Let it be known though,
That to conclude your thoughts for a lifetime
Is a rapid retirement into death.

ACTIVITIES

YEARBOOK STAFF

This year there was a large yearbook staff. Their purpose was to work at creating memories--taking the happenings of the year and working them into the shape of PEGASUS. Many worked long hours at making the memories take the correct form in this book, through good layouts and a good arrangement of pictures. Without these people there could not have been a yearbook. We owe them a Thank-you.

CAMERA CLUB

Dennis Metz

The Camera Club took almost all of the Yearbook Pictures this year and without them there would of been no coverage of any of the events that took place in the school. Mr. Gault, the staff advisor, was willing to spend many hours developing the many pictures we required. The whole Club was very agreeable about going to various events that took place this year.

This page contains some of the creative pictures which some members of the Club took in their spare time. As can be seen, their knowledge of photography was used to produce some good pictures. We are sure that the whole Student Body of Vincent Massey appreciates the work done by this organization.

ACTIVITY NIGHT

So you think you're good at trivia? Try this one - What river is the Negro River a tributary of? Or try this popular one - What was the name of Superman's dog?

These were typical of the questions asked on "Reach For The Top", a quiz show sponsored by C. K. L. W. -T. V. Massey was well-represented this year by Laurel Montrose, Gail Moeller, Paul Nesselth and Howard Lampe.

The team began to prepare itself early in January. But a major problem had to be overcome. How does one study for a trivia contest? It was quite a struggle to prepare for any question, whether it be on sports, art, movies, geography, history, current events, famous people, etc., etc. ad infinitum.

Massey won the first round against St. Anne's High from Tecumseh but unfortunately had some difficulty trying to overcome a strong Centennial team in Round Two. We'll try for another crack at them next year.

ART CLUB

POLLUTION CLUB

Thank you Art Club for doing the posters advertising the Prom. Excellent art work is always appreciated, and it helps to brighten up the halls. The hall going into the library shows that Massey has some great artists.

Everyone is interested in environment, including the students of Massey. With this in mind, a group of students got together to form an anti-pollution club. Some other students organized a cafeteria project to help remind students to throw away garbage. If the whole student body gets involved, these projects will be a lot easier.

CHRISTMAS ASSEMBLY

THE KAZOO BAND

A Christmas Assembly is a tradition at Massey, and the holidays were welcomed by the artistic endeavors of students again this year. Santa visited students from the 1950's and The Kazoo Band started its pre-basketball game season at this assembly. And lest we forget, Scrooge made his annual visit to remind us that we must be good students or else Student Council of the Future might come to haunt us.

OUR SCHOOL'S STAR REPORTERS

Oct. 15/76 Massey

Squash! The last contender to the title of last week's football game was squeezed out by the famed Mustangs who have been making wine out of the competition!

Yes, the long time rivals who are gardeners at the vineyard where all squeezings take place were pressured out of contention.

We proud Mustangers are trying for Friday's contest; waiting to taste the grape again. Friday's bout, will surely leave a purple haze lying over the field.

Before leaving the subject of bare footin' we would just like to remind all you Daisy Maes to shine your toe nails and prepare yourselves to latch onto the Lil' Abned of your choice. It won't be long before you'll be parading around Dogpatch digging up what you can . . . if you know where it's at.

Here's hoping that someone lays some stuff on you in the near future, like the price of this year's yearbook.

It's on sale at newsstands everywhere within the school. This year's edition should be half-way decent as long as you remembered to smile when they took your picture!

March 4/71 Massey

You can take our favorite saying 'BIG BLUE' literally this week and add an 's', because blues is the only word to describe the situation around campus at this time. Three mighty Mustang basketball teams faced defeat over the weekend, forcing them to close their schedules.

The hockey team also ran into some bad luck not too long ago. However we're extremely proud of all our teams for finishing their season games as well as they did, especially the swim team which captured second place at W.S.S.A. finals at U. of W.

And if that's not enough to cause the blahs, would you believe exams start tomorrow? Look on the brighter side of things, plan to celebrate next Friday by going to see an ever-popular film, at another successful evening of 'Massey Night at the Movies'.

DANCE COMMITTEE

The Dance Committee organizes dances and other activities throughout the year. They planned a Sadie Hawkins Dance and a film night as well as dances. Mr. Henry is the teacher sponsor for this hard-working group.

MASSEY'S "LOVE STORY"..

Beautiful girls and handsome boys got together in the Cleary Auditorium for the prom. A meal was served, followed by the crowning of the queen and then dancing. The social committee put a great deal of work into this project, the biggest social event of the year for Massey students.

The prom queen candidates:
Marg Whelan, Kathy Saad,
Marilyn Morris, Sandy Knight,
Linda Fairbairn, Val Atchison,
Denise Greene, Cathy Rumack,
Sharon Teno.

The music for the dancing was provided by the Jerry Allen Trio. The dancing was started by the Queen and her Escort after the crowning.

FEB. 20TH 1970

OUR QUEEN AND HER ESCORT

Brian Munholland & Sharon Teno.

The dinner is over, and the people are getting restless. Pete Hillier and Pat Reaume make their way to the stage. The big moment is approaching fast.

"Will the prom queen candidates and their escorts please come forward," is the announcement.

Nine nervous girls followed closely by nine proud boys line up in front of the stage beside the throne. After a moment of silence four names are called out: Marilyn, Cathy, Val, and Sharon. One of these four girls will be the Prom Queen, the other three her escort. Finally the queen is announced; it is Sharon. Sharon begins to cry as she is led to the throne. A crown is placed on her head, and a dozen long-stemmed red roses are placed in her arms. The band starts to play a soft waltz, and Sharon and Brian are asked to begin the dancing. A happy Sharon dances with a proud Brian to the music.

This was the highlight of an evening planned many weeks before by a group of people known as the Social Committee. After a great deal of discussion, and long arguments it was decided that for the first time the annual Massey Prom would be held away from the school. We decided on the Cleary Auditorium, and on a winter prom.

There was a great deal of work in organizing the prom, but all the work was worth it, when you could see the smiles on all the faces.

SPORTS

The Vincent Massey Volleyball team continued to dominate play in the Windsor area as they captured their fourth W. S. S. A. championship in the last five years and their third S. W. O. S. S. A. championship in the last four years. In winning these championships, the Mustangs have stretched their regular season winning streak to 49 straight games.

Only in All-Ontario play have the Mustangs tasted defeat in any competition during the last two years. This year the team made a fine showing at Guelph in the All-Ontario finals, eventually succumbing to this year's champions (in the semi-final) and finishing third in a field of twenty-eight of the best teams in the province.

Many of this year's regulars will be graduating in the spring and the loss of Ed Latwinski, Gord Gillies, Fred Hoffman, Pete Karlechuk, Tim Theaker and Jim Gomes will result in almost a complete turnover in personnel for next year's team. This year's rookies however should be able to pick up where their predecessors left off and it appears as though next year's regulars such as Tom Foster, Andy Laliberty, Rick Stanko, Bernie Hoffman, Doug Balmos, Scott Windsor and Harry Frank will be fully capable of carrying on the outstanding effort which has come to be expected of Massey volleyball teams.

Thanks go out to fans, cheerleaders and Student Council from the volleyball team for the moral and financial support which helped to make this past season a successful one.

The Senior Girls' Volleyball Team was the S. W. O. S. S. A. championship team this year. This was the first time in Vincent Massey's history that the Senior Girls achieved this position. Next year's team promises to be just as successful. Everyone will be looking forward to another championship team, led by Lynn Dawson, Lynn and Lee Wade, Joan Carson, Wendy Snyder and the rest of the players.

The girls appreciate the excellent coaching of Miss Tierney and thank her for the many hours she spent coaching them.

JUNIOR MUSTANGS

Last fall was a successful yet fruitless season for the junior football team. The team made the play-offs but fell short in its quest for the championship.

After a resounding opening game victory over Centennial 26-6, we were crushed 35-8 by Assumption, the worst defeat ever absorbed by a Massey junior team. Next came a rather shoddy victory against Forster 21-6, which set the stage for our rematch with Assumption and in the words of Mr. Churchill "this was our finest hour". We came away with a 15-15 tie, a tie but for one or two mistakes could have been an easy victory. Finally came the play-off game with Brennan and the less said about this game the better. We were beaten physically, mentally, and most importantly on the scoreboard 25-9.

The team is grateful for the spirit and fine play of its captains Dave Meston, Gary Silk, and Tony Bell, and the support they received from Gord Cazola, Rob Graper, Mark Woodiwiss, Mark Nantais, John Rodgers, Gary Jenkins, Bob Buckley, Mal Hodges and others. We wish to thank the fans who supported us and the cheerleaders and managers who never gave up on us. We are especially grateful to the coaches Mr. Pocock and Mr. Radovich who were directly responsible for the success we achieved.

BADMINTON

The Mustangs had the players and the potential for a championship team but injuries mounted as the season progressed and chances for the championship became increasingly limited. Gary McCann (1st Team All-City Halfback) injured his ankle badly in the fourth game after rushing to a 110 yard average in the first three contests. Mike Murphy (2nd Team All-City Tackle) also injured his ankle during the last practice before the play-off and his absence was felt greatly during the game. Dave Foster, Gerry Adams, Paul Seeler, Dave Seeler, Les Sulyuk, Dave Cuthbert and Mark Millen all suffered injuries which caused them to miss games or severely limit their playing abilities.

Our co-captains were Doug Hyland, Tom Bennett and Gary McCann. Doug displayed the coolness and leadership which is so essential to the quarterback position and Tom and Gary went on to become our defensive and most valuable players of the year respectively. Mike Murphy was selected as offensive player of the year and Bob Skinner as the most improved.

Also noteworthy of mention for their desire and outstanding play are Dennis Osborne, Mike Egypt, Don Turner, Pete Hoffman, Dave Pegg, Randy Essery and Gerry Adams.

Lastly, we'd like to thank our coaches Mr. Mollard and Mr. Leach. They were hard with us and shared deeply our triumphs and disappointments.

Although the Mustangs did not win the championship this year, the team played an exciting brand of football and through the fine play of some of our undergraduates and rookies showed definite promise for next year.

Karen Johnson, Captain; Lynn Wade, Lee Wade, Sheila Whelan, Beth Craig, Nancy Bucheski, Cory Soucie, Wendy Snider, Marilyn Morris, Cathy O'Neil and Cathy Benotto composed one of the best Sr. girls' teams that Massey has ever had.

Unfortunately, the girls did not become the W. S. S. A. champs this year, but with their potential, drive, determination watch out for them next year.

Karen Johnson, Lee Wade and Lynn Wade were elected to the West All-Star team at the conclusion of the regular season. All three girls played extremely well in the East-West All-Star game. West defeated East 46-41.

MUSTANG HOCKEY

STANDING: Mr. Basinski, Dave Forester, Terry Austin, Mr. Riesberry.
KNEELING: Dave Cope, Captain; Rick Kolyvek.

Massey hockey started on an exciting note this year and ended on an equal pitch. Although our record was not impressive, none will forget the infamous first game brawl with Assumption or our ability to beat the champion Purple Raiders (twice) when nobody else could. Led by seniors Dave Cope, Dave Forester, Terry Austin, Pete Happy and goalies Larry McCrae and Rick Kolyvek, Massey finished in a play-off position. The series with Assumption went the limit with Austin scoring the only goal in the 1-0 second game win. At the season's end, team scoring leader Dave Cope and goalie Rick Kolyvek received second team All-City recognition. A special thanks to coaches Basinski and Riesberry for their inspirational leadership and best of luck to the future Mustangs.

The Massey Cross-Country team was a combination of old and new this year. Some faces that have been well established at Massey, (Tom Carrington, Jim Gomes, Al Kalas, John Mahoney and Dave Aldous) continued to run with great style. But there was an addition of many new faces that show a lot of promise for the future as indicated by our Juvenile team's second place finish in W.S.S.A.

Another bright addition was a girls' team at Massey. They defeated teams from all over South Western Ontario in the Leamington Invitational Meet and defeated the Essex County champs in S.W.O.S.S.A. (as well as placing ahead of many of the boys.)

Another undefeated season for the girls and an even better showing from the boys is anticipated for next year.

"Try and stop me."

"I've returned to haunt you."

"Am I over parked?"

"Very interesting . . . but strange."

"I saw you from across the field and I just had to know you."

"One for you . . . two for me."

"Come into my parlour," said the spider to the fly.

"Hey, team, you didn't have your Wheaties."

"Tennis, anyone?"

I could fill pages with words which would only seem hollow because they are what everyone else writes. This is only a word.

"Strike three, we're out."

"Same to you, only worse."

"No, no, no. Two and two make four."

The weekday blahs.

"These last period spares are murder."

"Now for my triple loop."

Not bad

"A thousand days are as yesterday, which is past. And as a watch in the night."
It is true that time passes by quickly, and this year which started ten months ago, is already finished. That is why a yearbook is important. It captures the history of one academic year better than any textbook and also more accurately because it shows the emotions of the people. The purpose of this book is to show the school year as it was; a series of triumphs and failures which have gone on into the formation of the past.

In this book, we tried to show the people in the school in the various aspects in which they are seen. We tried to use pictures showing the faces of people involved in school life. These faces bring out moods - sometimes joyful but sometimes sad.

So, the pictures have locked time on photographic paper, to be transformed into the form of this book, a record of the year 1970-1971.

"A thousand days are as yesterday," and this year will soon be part of the complicated yesterday of your life.
