"My interview is coming up on page 81."

OUR VICE-PRINCIPAL

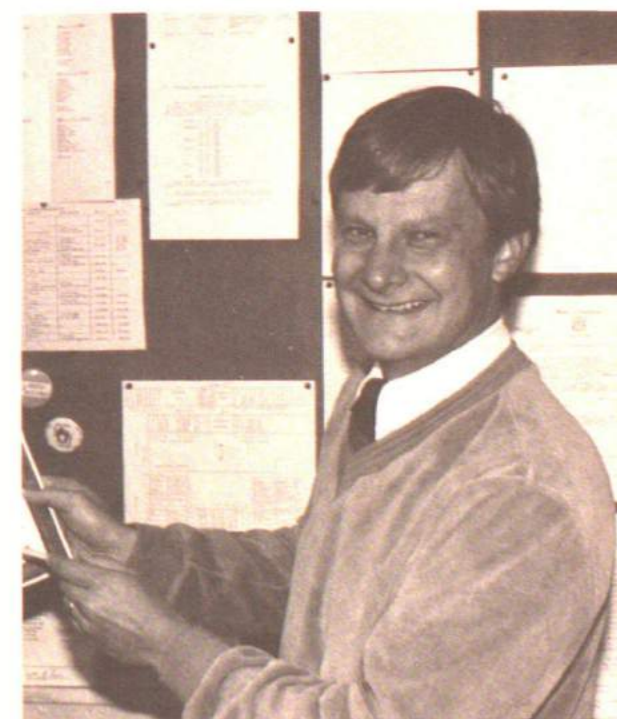

This year has been one of many changes and challenges - the four-day cycle with its tumbling timetable, the three terms with final examination recommendations, a full intramural programme, and others.

Through this fine edition of Pegasus, we will be able to cherish friendships made, objectives reached, and lessons learned.

To the graduates, a sincere "Thanks" for your leadership and example. May you continue to "grow" through your many future endeavours.

"THE CLASS OF '83"

As we, "The Class of '83," glance through this edition of the yearbook now and in the many years to come, we will be searching for memories, times that are past, but which are still lingering in our minds; happy and sad times, moody and glad reflections of the year that was 1982-1983. In the midst of these thoughts, we will reflect back upon our last five years at Massey, through which we went from being the followers to becoming the leaders.

With time, the memories will fade, but within these pages, we will revive the good times. We will remember those lunchtime euchre matches, those exam blues, the excitement of the prom, but most of all, the indescribable feeling of Graduation. We see the end to five years of good and bad, of friends and teachers; we are leaving the security of secondary school and each going our own ways. We are at an end but also a beginning to a new life.

The "Mighty Mustangs" are free.

STUDENT EXECUTIVE

PRIME MINISTER

I am extremely proud of this year's Student Council. We have seen many changes take place amongst the staff as well as in the Student Council; however, we all managed to work to finally achieve co-operation, which is so necessary for success. We managed to hold many worthwhile events and activities throughout the year. We started fund raising for Goodfellow, U.N.I.C.E.F., and Cerebral Palsy that will, we hope, be carried out by the students in the future.

I would like to thank all of you for your support and co-operation. I want to extend special thanks to Julie Spasuk, Colleen Mayville, John Lassaline, Michelle and Roger Savoie, and George Levidis. Without their help and dedication, we would not have been able to produce such a successful year.

With the changes brought out by our new principal, Mr. Motruk, next year's Student Council and Student Body should have it even better than ever.

Keep up the good work!

A GLANCE AT MR. MOTRUK

Mr. Motruk's letter was not available so thanks to the newspaper we have an interview with him.

Question: What are some particular things you like at Massey?

Answer: I like the 4 day cycle, and I am glad they decided to do it. I like the students and the community.

Question: How do you feel about Massey's School Spirit?

Answer: The Pep Rally was overwhelming. It gave me a warm feeling to know the spirit is still here, just like at the start.

Question: What are your opinions on the new smoking area?

Answer: It is much better where it is now. There is a good image created when an area like this is controlled. I hope the student body will beautify the area in the future.

Question: How do you feel this school year will go?

Answer: I was impressed at the beginning of the school year. It will go over very well because the staff and students are A-1.

WIND PICTURES

Look! There's a giant stretching in the sky,
A thousand white-maned horses flying by,
A house, a mother mountain with her hills,
A lady posing in her frills,
Cotton floating from a thousand bales,
And a white ship with expanding white sails.

See the old witch fumbling with her shawl,
White towers piling on a castle wall,
The bits of soft that break and fall away,
Air-borne mushrooms with undersides of gray -
Above, a white doe races with her fawn
On the white grass of a celestial lawn.
Lift up your lively heads and look
As winds turn clouds into a picture book.

Deb: Well, I can hardly believe that our year has come to an end. I've had a fantastic time and couldn't have felt more at home with my parents. You're very lucky to have a wonderful family and I'm proud of it, and I believe how lucky I am a part of it. I hope I can get along with you and realize I will always be close to you. I'm different! Thanks for being so special. I don't let you down. I hope you read this or you might not be allowed to come!

WORLD I AM YOUNG

World I am young, unsettled and searching,
Exploring the heights and the plain.
I wander your deserts, thirsty and pale,
I weep in the pouring rain.
I climb the mountains with eagerness,
Always seeking my new goal.
I run into the stinging thorns
I fall with deluded soul.
In the shadows of dusk I tremble.
I fear death and even life.
Tomorrow I laugh, and confidence
Permeates my daily strife.
World, I am young, the hope of your day
I'm bewildered and strange in this land
I'm searching your paths, for a vision called truth
Somebody hold out your hand.

THE FREE WORLD

He always wanted to share things
But no one cared,
So he shared with himself.
He fantasized of a world beyond him
He lived and slept with this idea.
He didn't want anyone to steal it from him
It was a world within a world.
It was calm and fresh compared to the stale, stiff, miserable world surrounding it.
Every morning he sat in the middle of his padded room
The four walls were all pale white in colour.
To the outsiders, they were blank, but to him
They were like a big screen.
He imagined beautiful pictures on them.
He has been put in his room and forgotten
By society.
But yet he knows somehow that he is happier than
The people who put him there.
Even today, he continues to live in his own world, happy
And free.

Dear Debbie
Well it's been a pretty good year. Thanks for being such a good friend. You've always been there to talk to. I've enjoyed all the time we've spent together & I know that for sure next year we'll go out more (I can ride with ya' then sigh!) Thanks for being my friend. Take care
Love always Heather ☺

LA MÉTHAMORPHOSE

L'autre côté du pré, une jeune fille était assise au bord d'un petit étang.
Elle lançait paresseusement de petits cailloux dans l'eau calme.
Les roseaux ballottaient par-ci, par-là, pendant qu'une brise légère soufflait.
Il faisait chaud.
Le soleil brillait et donnait à ses cheveux une couleur dorée.
Elle regardait sa réflexion dans l'eau et voyait une jeune femme, pas une jeune fille.
Elle a dix-huit ans maintenant et mûre.

Honourable Mention

Deb,
It's been a wonderful year, and I know you're sexy, someday, maybe I'll find out first hand.
Love ya lots
Mark Lafont

Hi chick.
 What am I gonna say right now that you don't already know? Nothing. But because I'm your best friend and because I don't want you to have no signatures in your yearbook, I'll sign it. 2 YEARS! Holy cow. I just realized that. It seems a lifetime. I mean that as a compliment. We know so much about each other and yet there's so much ground left to cover. You like the poem? PRIDE

You know what I can't believe? With most people you become friends because you're in something in class, or a sport, or summer camp. But you're just getting closer, closer, it's quiet, it makes it special. I think it'll last forever. We've got some memories together - it's great.

The championship football game (sorry), the championship basketball game, the 'Stang, MAT 350, your birthday at Mother's etc, etc, etc, etc, etc, etc. There's so much. Don't change, don't drift and don't stand up in a canoe.

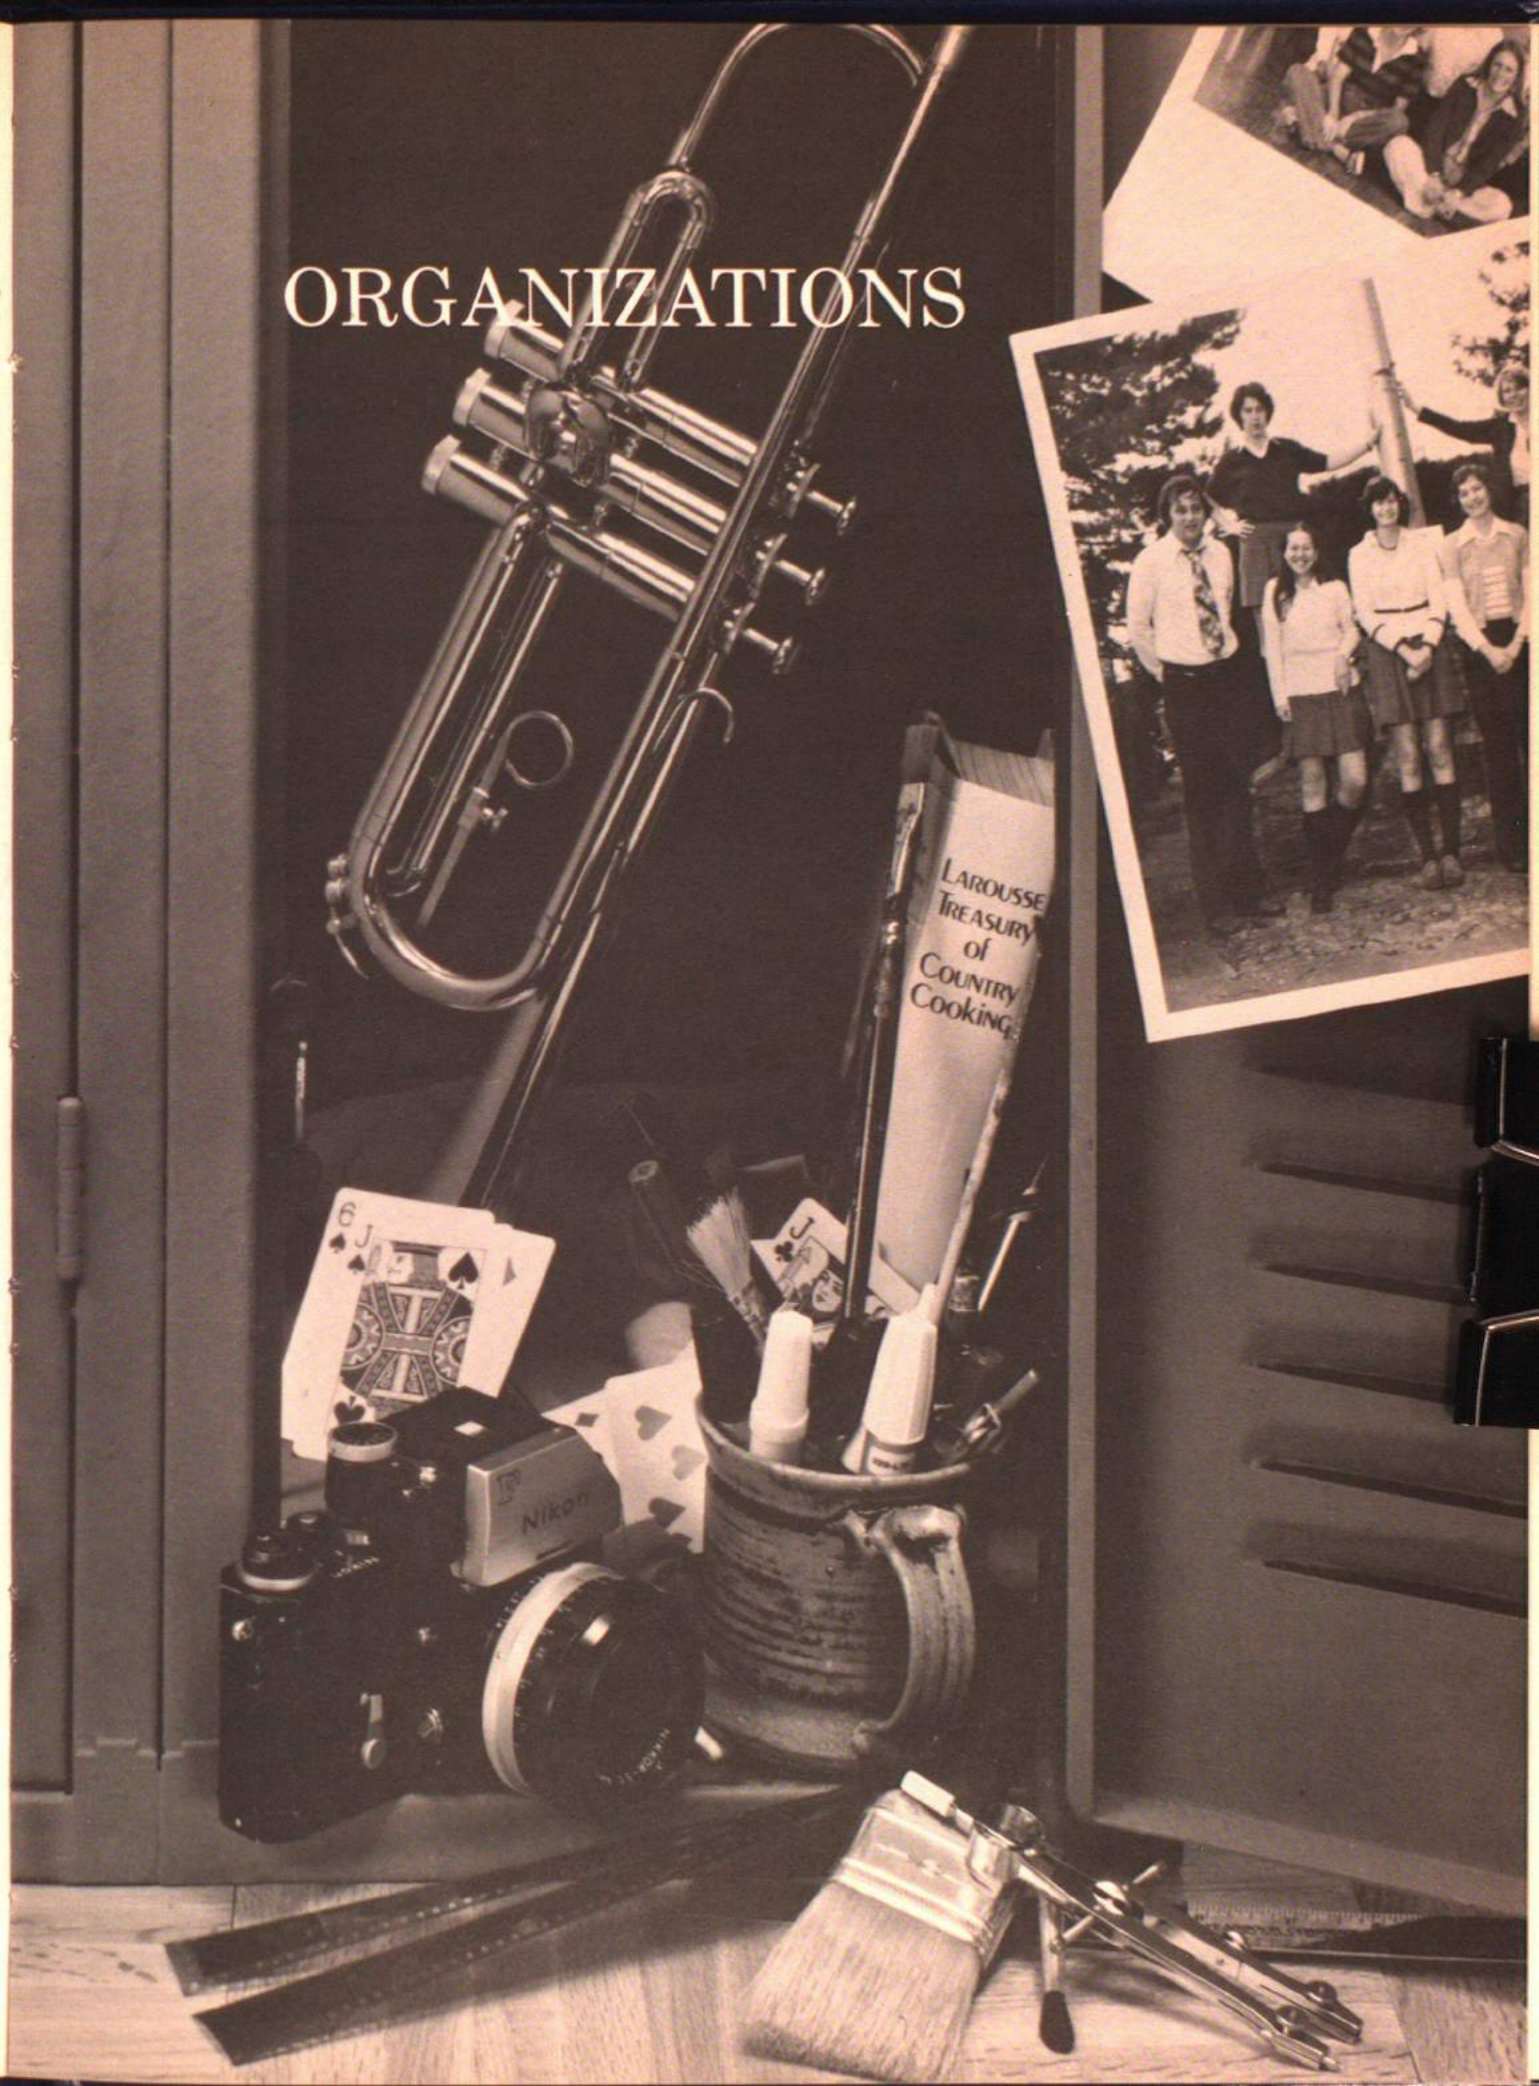

I love ya.
 By the way, I really don't mind you walking in and out of my house all the time. great years, just like this, to come.

Jackie
 WE THINK TOO MUCH ALIKE!!!

I know you've had.
 I know you've had some tough times, child
 I know you've felt the cold
 I've seen the pain destroy your life
 And touch your very soul.
 I've watched you grow and toughen up
 I've seen you lick the wounds
 I've seen revenge thrill through your veins
 I know you've paid your dues.
 But child, one mistake you've made
 Through all your pain and fears
 You never kept the truth from them
 You never hid the tears
 Never let them see you cry
 Never weep out loud
 For child, they are the enemy
 And you, my boy, are proud.
 They can build you up and break you down
 But if you've never cried
 They can never really hurt you
 If they cannot touch your pride.

YEARBOOK STAFF

Marie Nicell - Assistant editor.
Wendy Dable - Editor.
Susan Novosad - Co-Editor.

Pegasus 82-83 has taken many long hours to produce and hopefully will bring back many memories of the year. I was disappointed in the size of this year's staff, but those who did work on it did an excellent job so that the rest of you would have something to look back on and remember your years at Massey. I only hope that next year there will be more interested juniors so that they will carry on to produce more and maybe even better yearbooks for the students of Massey to remember some of their best days.

Thank-you

THE PEOPLE BEHIND

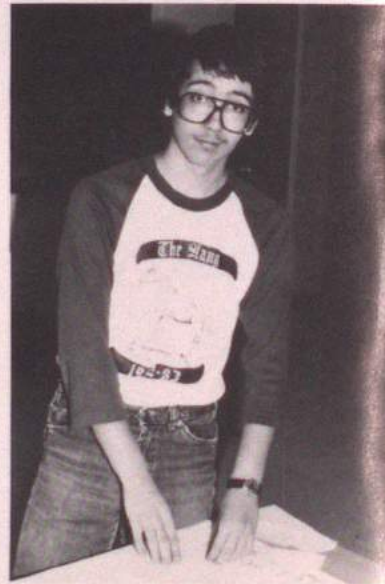

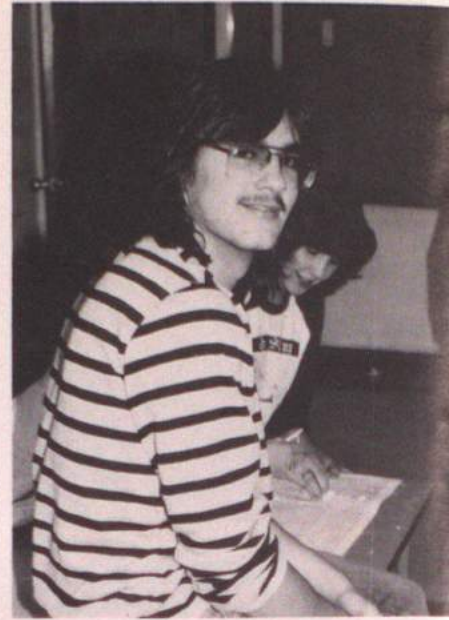

This year, the 1982-83 'Stang staff has worked hard during their lunch hours and after school against time to meet their deadlines. I am proud to say that this year's staff, comprised of many talented and capable students, has done an outstanding job entertaining and informing the student body with considerable guidance from Mr. Marchand. New additions to the staff with their novel ideas and dedication helped to continue the 'Stang's successful publication.

As editor this year, I am proud to have been a part of the school newspaper and I hope that there are many more budding journalists who will continue to make the 'Stang a part of Massey that the students may be proud of.

Thanks to the entire staff,

COACH OF THE YEAR

This year's Senior Football team is one of which all Massey students should be very proud. It is one thing to win a championship but quite another to come back from the brink of elimination and capture a title. The boys won their last five games, including the championship form the powerful pennant-winning Brennan Cardinals. This is the first time in W.S.S.A. history that a team has lost three consecutive, regularly scheduled games and emerged as champions.

Congratulations to all the Mustangs on this outstanding achievement!

SENIOR CHEERLEADERS

This year's senior cheerleading has been very successful. The majority of the squad is made up of grade eleven girls; in fact nine out of eleven are in grade eleven. The girls have worked very diligently to perfect their cheers, and as a result, they have improved greatly. Heather Muir and Alice Haliburton, both in grade twelve, share the responsibility of captainship. The girls are looking forward to participating in upcoming competition and cheerleading camp during the summer.

They have all worked together and feel they have successfully promoted spirit in supporting our school teams. The sponsor of the team is Mrs. Womack. The girls would like to thank her for all the love and care she has given them.

MUSTANGS

This year's Massey Mustangs featured three smooth skating forward lines, a solid defense and steady goaltending. That combination propelled them to a 12-2-2 record, their best season since the undefeated season of 1978-1979.

The offensive thrust was spearheaded by Greg Bartlett, Doug Thompson, Paul Beuparlant, Ken Dimu, Jim St. Louis and Tim Taylor, while Curt Cusinato, Jay Schroeder and Mark Laforet checked tenaciously.

The defense was anchored by the excellent two-way play of Duane Pekar, Brian Pougnet, Paul Gecelovsky and John Sapardanis.

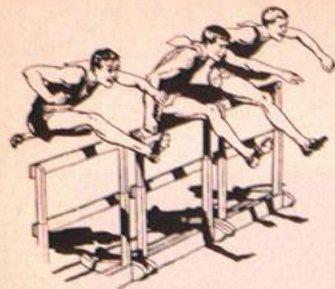

Dave Burdett and Scott McGinnis gave the team fine goaltending with a combined goals against average of 2.3.

SPECIAL THANKS TO:

Ms. Nazarewich, Mr. Sokol,
and Mr. Gault
From the Yearbook Staff.

Like sands in an hourglass, these are the days of your life. High school years are the times when you produce some of your fondest memories the days to reflect on and think how easy you had it but didn't think so then. This year at Massey many memories have been produced not only were there some fantastic athletic championships but there were also many academic champions all of which deserve their awards. They will certainly remember this year and will help you to remember too.

Best girl I want
 A boy. Will you?
 Give me a call
 in the summer
 Doug Thompson

Over the school year we faced the final WHO tour, the death of Princess Grace, and an end to the Korean War with the final episode of MASH. These events along with the school events and changes will make this year memorable. So as you glance back at this book you'll remember that high school days are the best days of your life, SO FAR . . .

Debbie,

Even though we've gotten along fairly well this year, you still bug me. But I can put up with it on July 9th, by the way is it still on? Sociology was kind of fun this year, I think we could have seen a few more filmstrips though. One thing for sure I hope we get in more classes together next year, we get along pretty good in fact I guess we talked quite a bit, even though we didn't get the dance, maybe next year sweetie! By the way thank for talking when I need you to! Call me sometime
