ADMINISTRATIVE MESSAGE

Mr. Motruk
Principal

Mr. Price
Vice-Principal

Vincent Massey has established a fine tradition in this community through hard work by the students, teachers, and parents over the years.

Congratulations to all of our leaders - academic, athletic, service and talents - whose fine example should provide the incentive for others to follow.

May the graduates have continued success as they move on to another plateau in their lives.

This excellent edition of Pegasus will allow us to look back with fondness to the challenges accepted and successes achieved for 1983-84.

Debbie, I really love you! you are special to me! but we had our hard times we've survived and I know I'll never forget our times together were better because the bad times could last! Please, (I'm begging now) keep in touch. You know, we don't live that far away from each other. Love you always! Sealed with a kiss!

Debbie? Well, another has come to an end and we can finally have a good time over the summer. You're a great friend and I enjoyed getting kissed out of your seat every day. "May all of your eyes and doors be in bed!" Love Dave xxx

STUDENT COUNCIL

Unity would appear to have been the key ingredient for the success of this year's student council and the school year as a whole. We approached this year determined to make high school more than simply an education and accomplished this through a variety of fundraisers, events, and activities too numerous to mention. Our crowning achievement was the great effort and success of Lotto Massey and the large screen t.v. we purchased with its profits, but as each one of us reminisces upon the past year, we can reflect upon a number of moments which we will cherish forever.

Through co-operation between the student body and government even in the face of our declining enrolment, we have maintained all clubs and athletics, continuing traditions as well as beginning some of our own. The reputation of Massey as one of the most respected high schools in the city has been sustained, and that is something for each of us to be proud of. All of this never would have occurred, however, without the great efforts put forth by Dave Ohrling, Mark Ditmars, Heather Muir, Linda Wong, Julie Spasuk, Melinda Hinch, John Lassaline, and all the others involved.

I hope that future student governments can appreciate our successes as well as learn from our mistakes. My final wish is that each and every member of the Massey staff and student body will be able to look upon this year fondly with a smile on their faces and a warmth in their hearts.

EDITORS' MESSAGE

For the past two years we have managed to produce a yearbook that will bring back events and memories to staff and students. Many long hours have been spent in preserving the 83-84 year.

Hopefully, in coming years there will be a greater student participation, and more cooperation from the staff! Thanks go to the few dedicated students who showed up regularly to help us meet those ever-approaching deadlines and also thanks to the occasional wanderers-in.

Working in the yearbook has been very rewarding as we can include pages that, in years to come, will bring back the fun of high school days. Good luck to the 84-85 yearbook staff and those graduating students.

As the third wave of technology broke upon the hallways of Massey, the school newspaper, THE 'STANG, was not left in its wake. The paper's staff has kept abreast of many new and modern developments within the media field. Word processors that right justify the articles have replaced the antiquated typewriters as the newspaper was swept along by the currents of computerization.

This year, the newspaper has rapidly grown from eight pages to twelve, further emphasizing the importance of THE 'STANG as a communicative link between staff and students. The quality of the written material has also improved with the increased staff of promising and multi-talented journalists.

After working as the editor for the past two years, I have involved an interaction between people with a common aim -- to inform and entertain others. Needless to say, the successful publications depend upon these diligent workers, and their dedication should be highly commended.

THE 'STANG has become one of Massey's finer traditions and will, without a doubt, continue its quality reporting under the helpful guidance of Mr. Marchand. This legacy is left to those many enthusiastic and budding talents found in abundance within the classrooms of Vincent Massey.

CAN SPEAK

Can speak?
Then say
If words shall come
If speculation holds remorse
If remorse evokes anger
Anger bears voice
And the birth of voice
Intelligence

Repress not emotion
Nor hush the resounding voice of criticism
For criticism shapes perfection
And perfection is the motion of grace.

Be hold and forthright
For a man of quiet temper
Is a man hard-used and tread upon

Be cautious yet not hesitant
For the moment quickly passes
When first the thought was born

Think carefully and be correct
Articulate and know what is right
Lead thy people in the way of freedom and justice Know how far to go, when to stop and when there is ground left yet to cover Leave not a stone unturned in your journey towards knowledge
For knowledge breathes the air of tireless research
And ignorance is the product of fatigue

Can speak?
Speak clearly
Define oneself
Thy voice
Its purpose

Surpasses that of the beast or bird
For these have not opinion nor thought Nor can they change the word or lead their Kind into the future

Can speak?
Be heard!

FUR'S NOT FOR ME

The rabbit, he ran
He ran his best
For he knew that pain he must encounter before he can rest.

The dried creek bed
The heat of the sun
Only love and will power kept the frightened rabbit in full run.

But, deep down in his bones
He knew they were near
He knew they would catch him if he showed the slightest sign of fear.

From the rabbit's tall ears
To the rabbit's short tail
The nerves tightened, his eyes grew pale.

For he heard them now
Not far away
Maybe behind a bush
because he heard one sway.

They were closer now
And so was he
To his rabbit warren as cozy as could be.

Just three more strides
To safety thought he Where man shall never ever catch me!

He thought this as they shot him down
He thought how ruthless man must be yet not for me.
So close to safety thought he.

A NEW EMOTION

I found myself silent and secretive;
reserved in utterance.
Refrained from taking action
I appeared immobile.
My mind became impervious
As I lived in an emotionless world of my own Sequentially,
I turned to see you there.
You requested some advice, so we talked.
You and I . . .
Our communication grew continuously and we perceived the sensation of a new emotion.
It was a friendship, a very special friendship.
You and I . . . became a harmonious unit and my shadow was left behind as you became a part of me and I of you.

TOGETHER FOREVER

Sitting alone inside of my heart,
It's cold, it's dusty, and oh so dark
Lonely and fearful, I just sit and stare
Not wanting to live, not wanting to care.
So deeply I'm thinking, I don't hear a sound
Till awakened by knocks, turned into pounds
I open the door and your love fills the room
Revealing the cobwebs, but dispensing the gloom
I reach out, I hold you, I release all my tears
So long you've been knocking, for all those years.
I invite you in, and we start to clean
The dust, and the cobwebs, my heart starts to gleam
I sit back to think, but this time with cheer
There'll be no more sorrow, there'll be no more tears
Together, forever, inside of my heart
And nothing, not ever, can take us apart.

SAND CASTLE

I'd like to take you with me
To my private sand castle in thought
Whose walls echo of promised freedoms
Though evidence lingers of battles fought
This castle lives to be reckless; lavishly
Compromised with wills of the heart
But if you should follow me there
I'm irresponsible of what could start
Consider the waters' eroding edge
Remember complex is the castle of sand
For simplicity seems quite absent
In each separate particle of its brand
I'll tell you one more dear secret
Security no one of time can obtain
For the castle is built on reality
Who forged and now wields the rain.

Dear Debbie,
Your cottage is great.
I'm going to visit you this summer, ok? Thanks for the band party.
I'm really glad you,
Lynne and I talked around the world's air in New Orleans.
I really got to know each other and became so much closer. Now
I really know how much of a rotten kid you are! Just kidding.
All the joking around and snide remarks I are just because I care about you so much. Have a wonderful summer.
Let's get together.

NOT ANOTHER ONE!

Crutches were a common accessory to every classroom this year. It was nothing to see someone in the hall needing help with books or struggling with doors. Sprains, breaks, and operations were in abundance this year; better luck next year to all students and staff.

All my Boyfriends in One Picture

What a coincidence

Debbie,

What can I say. God we've been through so much together. I'm so happy that in grade nine we became friends. The years seemed to pass so fast. Oh Deb I'm not the type to write things down on how I feel but you can only know through my actions. He seems like this past year we have become so close. We went out and did such good things that I'll always remember. I'm really really going to miss you next year. Writing that I how got tears in my eyes. I don't know what I'm going to do without you around. I just hope we stay in touch no matter where our lives take us. (Don't forget, you're singing at my wedding) Deb., I'm really going to miss and I'll always remember you even when I'm old so old. I'll remember that laugh, smile, sigh and just you for yourself. Good luck with school, love and with all your future ambitions.

Love you always
A friend forever never Lena

Deborah.

I feel like I've gotten to know you so much better this year. I mean I always knew you - but not you. I'm glad we're friends
See ya soon

Thanks for the pen...

Have a ~~hip~~ summer
