Mrs. Nantais: Our Determined Principal

Early in the fall, at the Massey 50th Reunion, we celebrated with over 1,500 alumni 50 years of excellence in education. The words of our first principal, Mr. Robert Bass (1960–1962), is still sage advice today: "Establish your goals with thoughtfulness and thoroughness – then pursue those goals with the utmost zeal." Each day endeavour to be one step closer to attaining your goals.

To the class of 2011, my heartfelt congratulations on your accomplishments. Thank you for sharing your talents with our community for these past four years. You will change the world!

My sincerest appreciation to the Yearbook Committee, Mr. Trudell and Miss Suchiu for creating a wonderful keepsake that will be treasured by future generations for years to come.

I'd also like to thank the parents, teachers, coaches and staff who each day inspire our students to greatness.

Mr. Reid and Mrs. Salinitri: the Beloved Vice Principals

Kicked off by the 50th reunion, this year has been of many great successes. The Massey school community had much to celebrate. Mustang spirit and pride was evident on the field, at events and in the classroom. Mr. Reid was welcomed by staff and students in his first year at Massey.

We wish all the graduates success in their future endeavours, and are excited to meet our newest Massey Mustang and their families. We are looking forward to celebrating our diversity, learning together and to spending another remarkable year with all of the Massey staff and students.

Administration: Secretaries

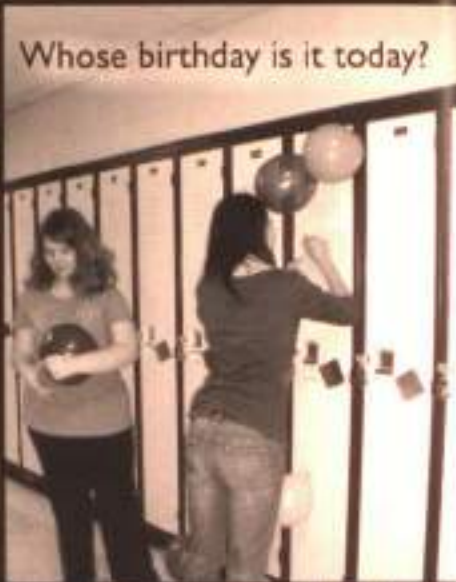

MASSEY MUSTANG

Smiling in excitement at a brand new day of school!

The hallways are so empty at 7:50 in the morning...

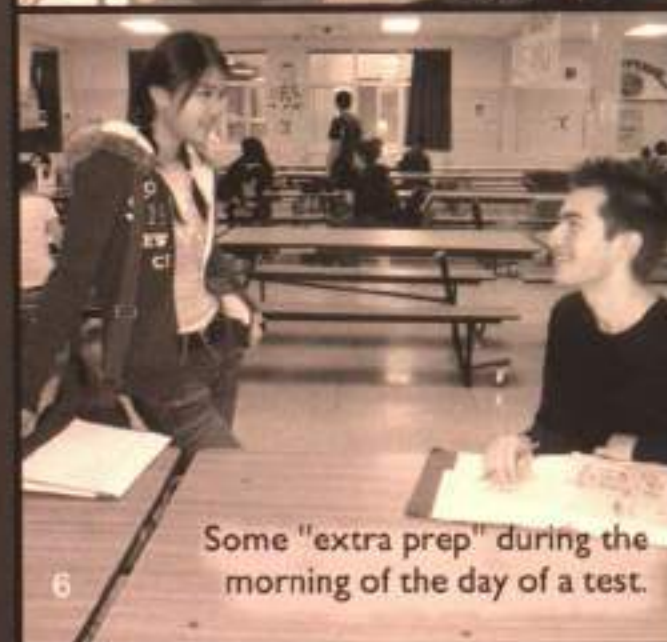

Whose birthday is it today?

Just some last-minute work at the school library. Shhh...

Gotta have my bowl, gotta have my cereal!

Some "extra prep" during the morning of the day of a test.

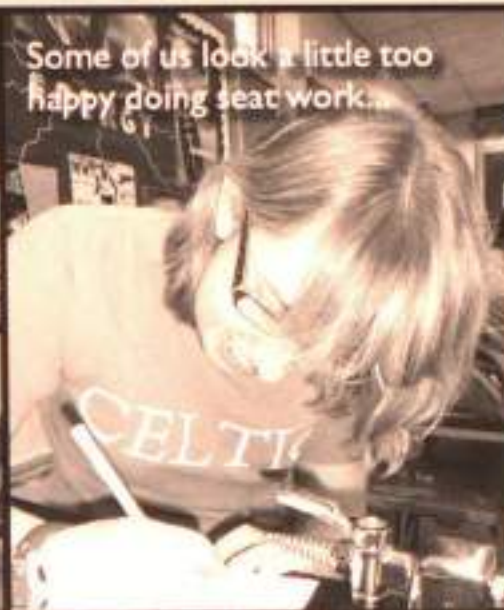

Uh-oh, the second bell rang...

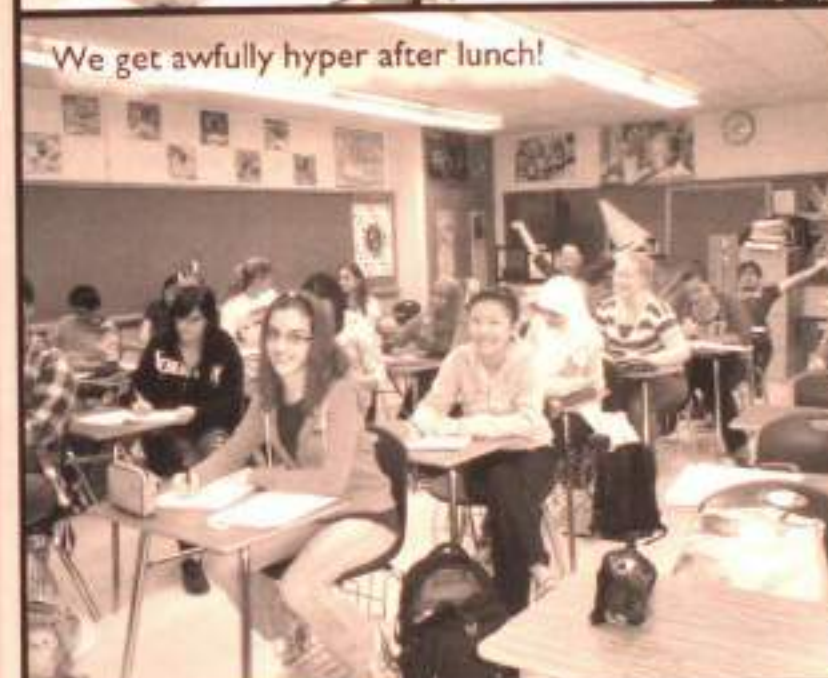

Class is in session!

Some of us look a little too happy doing seat work...

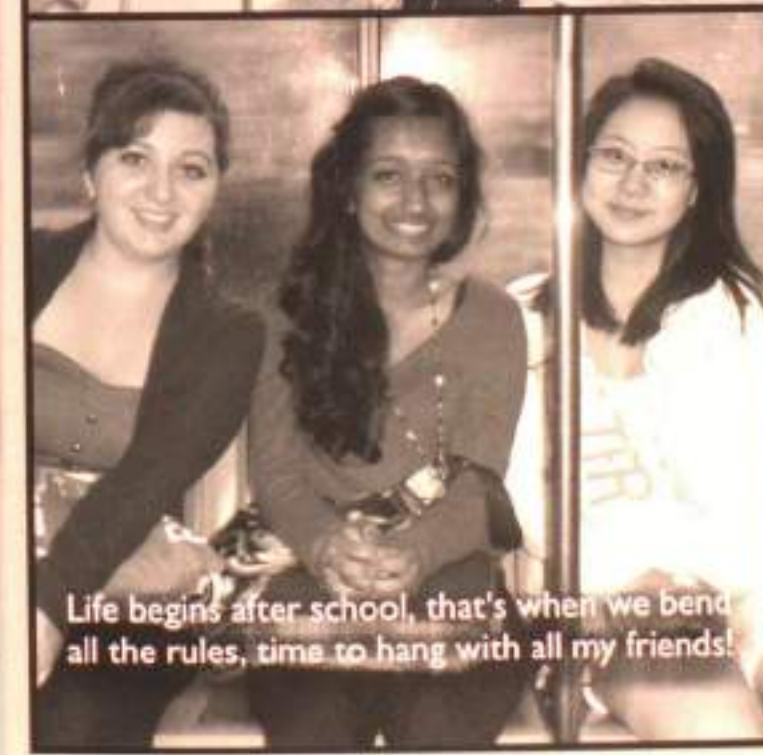

Just chilling at lunch...

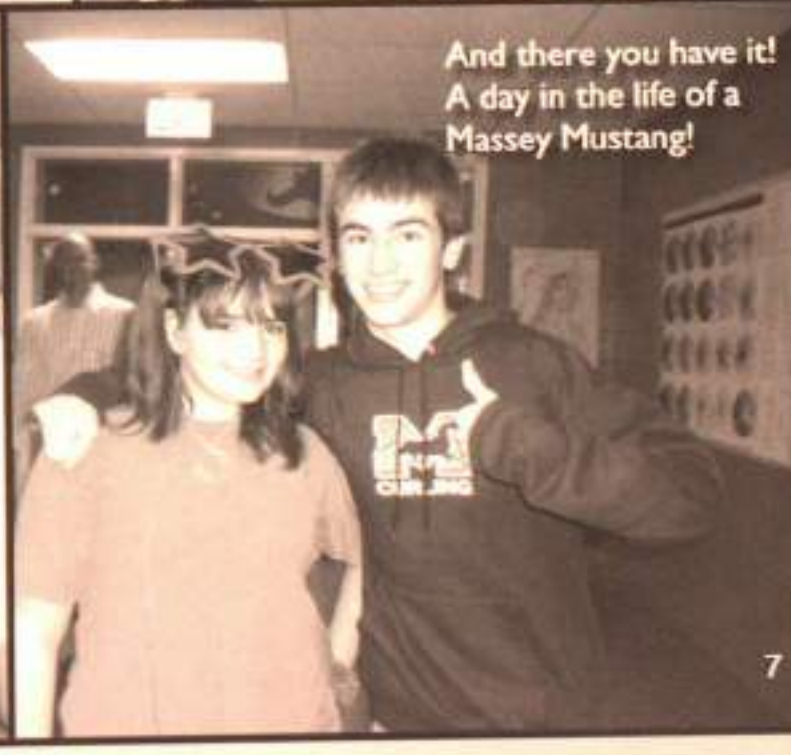

We get awfully hyper after lunch!

Ahh, school's almost over...

Life begins after school, that's when we bend all the rules, time to hang with all my friends!

And there you have it! A day in the life of a Massey Mustang!

Autumn

Winter

Spring

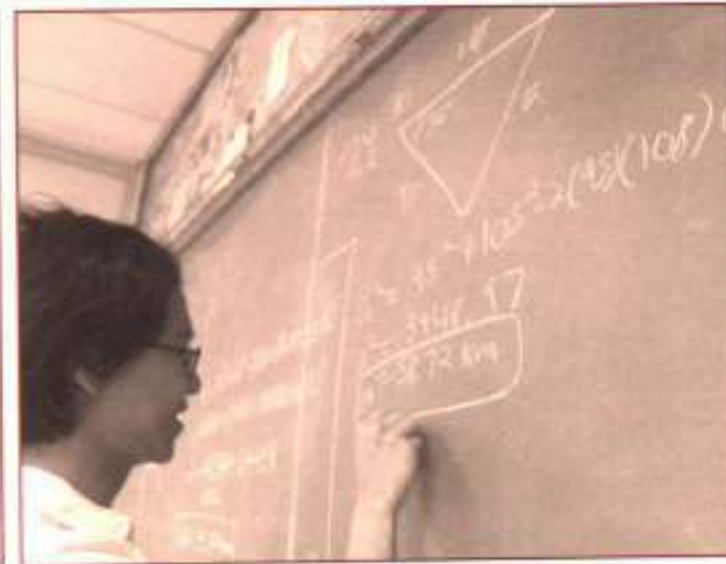

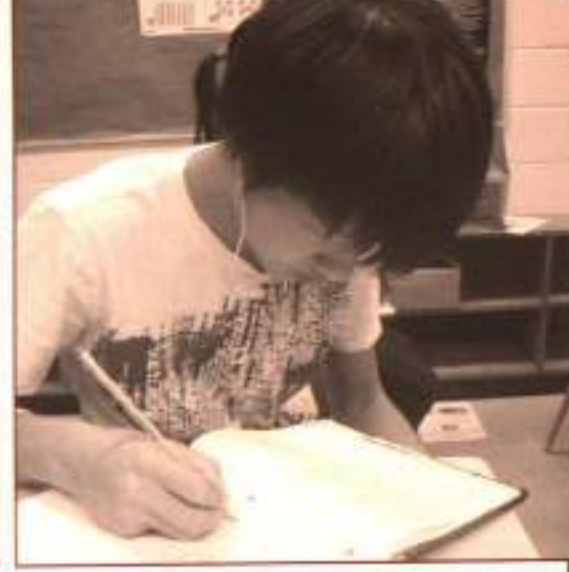

Summer

Terry Fox Run

Massey Mustangs raised over four thousand dollars this year to fight cancer.

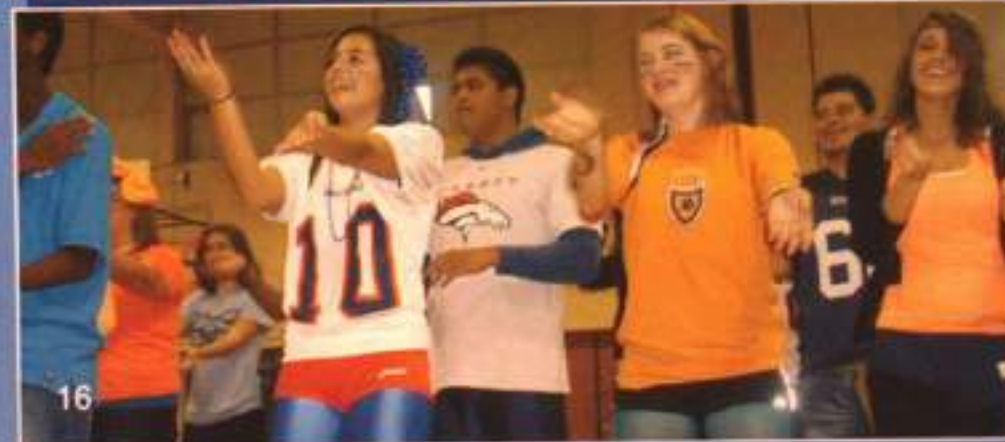

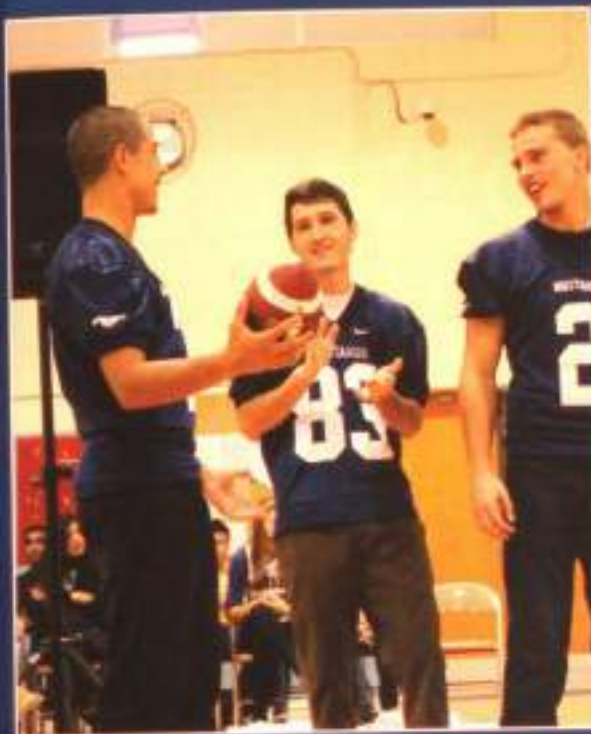

Coffee House

A time for memories with friends, excellent performances...and coffee!

MASSEY SPIRIT

MASSEY'S GOT TALENT

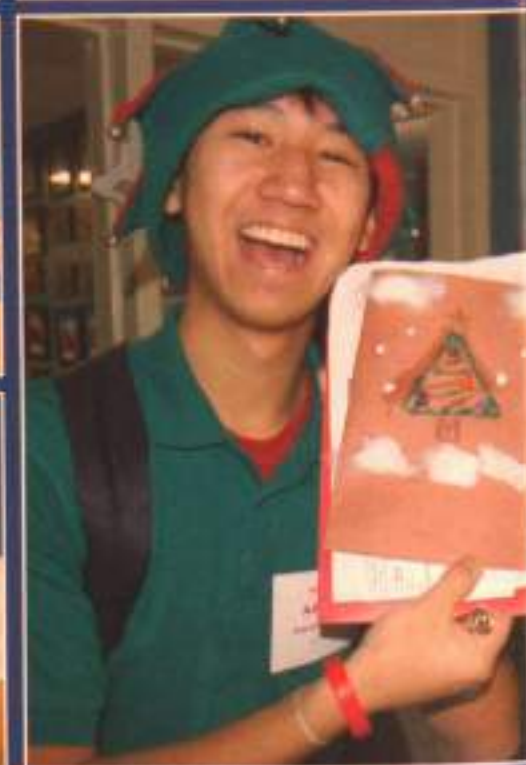

Blood Drive

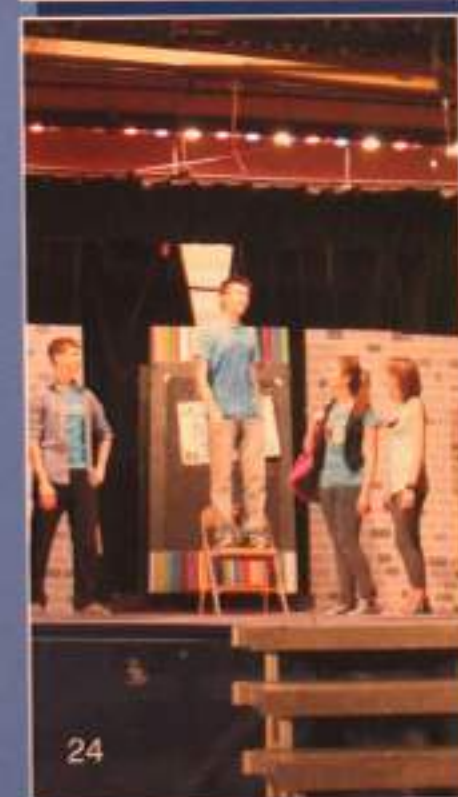

The halls are filled with the joy and laughter of young girls and boys. Santa is ready to have fun at Massey's annual Christmas Party!

Children's Christmas PARTY

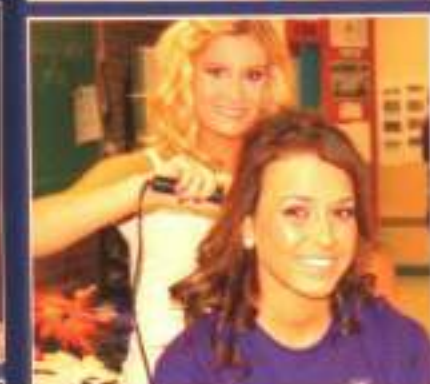

Massey students brought the stage of the Sears Drama Festival to life with a play about a gay teen's struggle to be accepted.

Waking Up BLUE

monster FASHION

This year's show, organized by Mme. Adams, was a great way to show off this season's styles and raise money for a good cause. Our talented students gave a monstrously good performance!

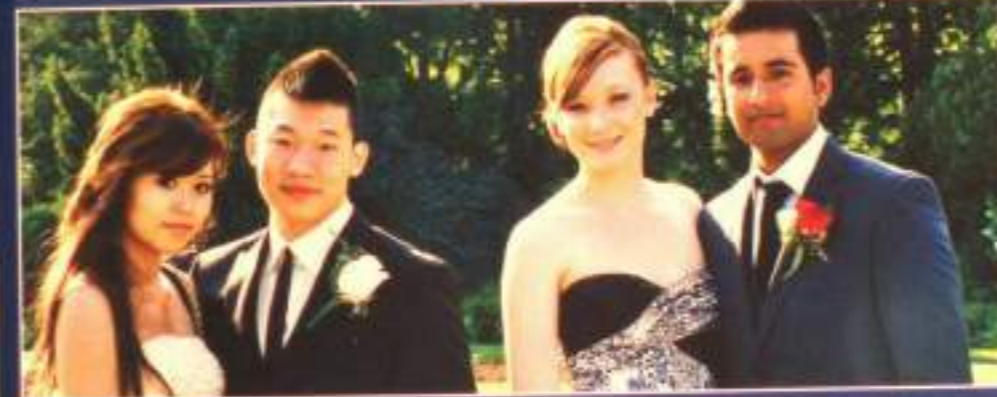

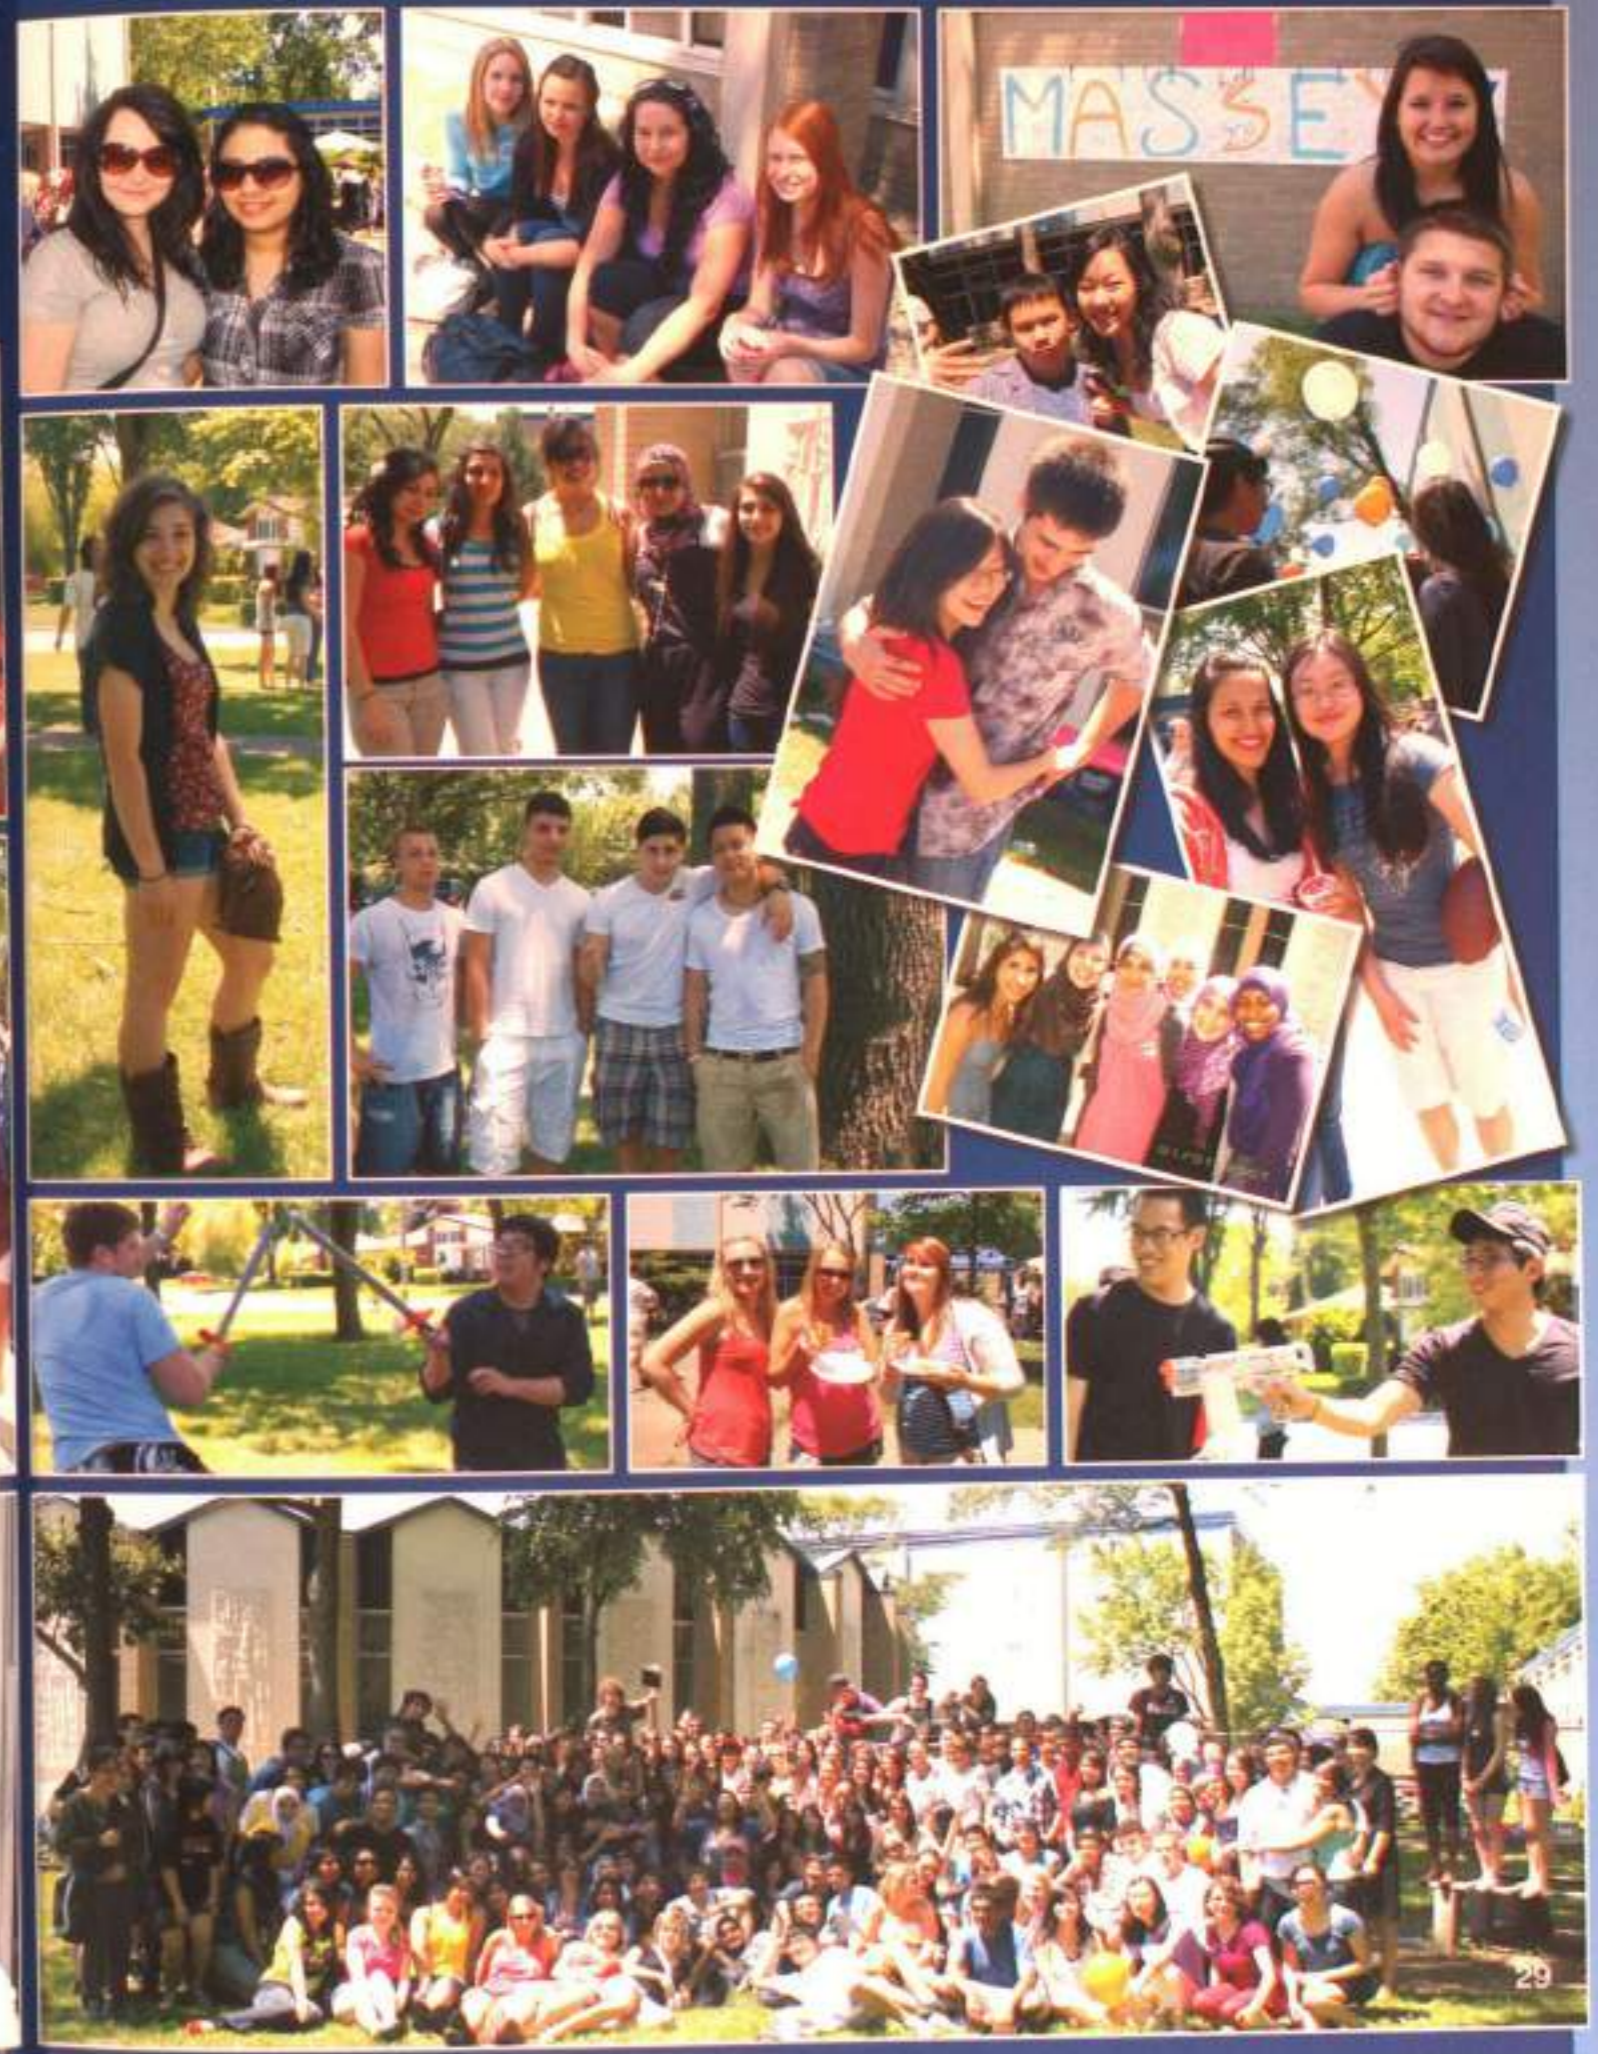

the mad hatter's Tea Party

MASQUERADE AT THE 2011 Prom

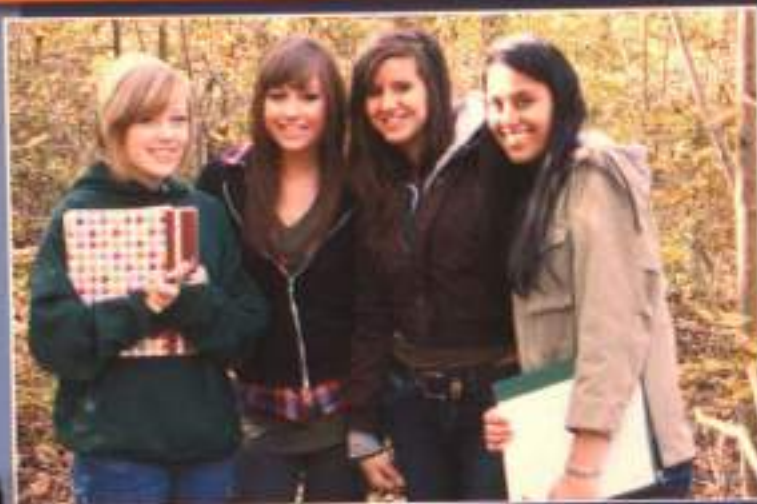

Grad Picnic

Whether they're doing labs at Oakwood Bush or skiing at St. Donat, Mustangs continue to excel and have fun!

School Trips

Massey Mustangs, both young and old, gathered to celebrate our school's 50 years of achievement with one huge party!

Vincent Massey's 50th Anniversary REUNION

Massey's Art classes consist of a tightly-knit group of students who are dedicated to enhancing the school's creative reputation. Here are some of their masterpieces!

Let's not hide away those photographs
that we hang up in our lockers, when there's a place for them right here...

Inside Your Locker...

A photograph is like the recipe - a memory the finished dish.
-Carrie Latet

A photograph is memory in the raw. -Carrie Latet

Most things in life are moments of pleasure and a lifetime of embarrassment; photography is a moment of embarrassment and a lifetime of pleasure. -Tony Benn

There are no rules for good photographs, there are only good photographs. -Ansel Adams

Valedictory Address

by Rodanna Allawnha

Staff, students, friends and family; hello, bonjour, ni hao, marhaba, namaskar, konnichiwa, annyeonghaseyo. Now I bet you're all wondering: how does this girl know how to say 'hello' in so many different languages? Well everyone, it isn't because I'm a genius (although I think I sorta am), it's because I am a Massey Mustang! Being a Massey Mustang is more than just participating in sports teams, or being in band. We all became Massey Mustangs that first day of school back in September of 2007. Little did we know, we weren't just entering a high school, we were entering a multicultural community which over the past four years has turned into a family.

When writing this speech, I found it hard to try and fit the four long years we've spent here together in a few minutes. I couldn't find one perfect way to describe to all of you, the way the Massey hallways smelled on those hot summer days, or that feeling of change when Mr. Nanson changed suddenly into Mr. Westbury. We have been through so much together, and it is easy to see that Massey has played an instrumental role in helping to shape the young men and women we are today. This year we have a very unique and exceptional group of students who are graduating. It's weird to think that we are sitting amongst our future doctors, business leaders, and future McDonalds executives. It's sad to think that we're here together for one last time as Massey students before moving on to Western, Waterloo, Windsor or even all the way to Kalamazoo.

I think we're the only graduating class to have an Olympic athlete who dominates at shot put and discus right Jordon Young. Academically, our school outshines all others: Yining Nie beat out 100 other Canadians for a scholarship to Cambridge University in England. Our math program is outstanding and widely recognized as one of the top programs in the city.

Our journey began back in grade 9. We were young, scared and had our schedules glued to our hands as we roamed the hallways hopelessly searching for our classes. It was a new experience for us – in Mr. Annet's words, we were comparable to ants in a crazy zoo. This year was filled with lessons to learn, the respect you were given was respect you had earned.

We spent grade 10 forming different groups of friends, but nonetheless we worked hard in school and played harder on the basketball court and soccer field. Grade 11 was a year that we used to experiment. We dissected pigs and were taught all about a new element on the periodic table with Miss Hamzeh that was interestingly enough named after her. We tried out new haircuts, made new friends, and were invited to new parties – right Alissa Malcolm? Now that is the year we most definitely perfected our Facebook abilities, or so we thought. In grade 12 we went from knowing how to add each other as friends to making private groups that were not so private after all.

Everyone told me, "grade 12 goes by fast," but I never imagined it would go by this fast. One year. One last year and what a year it has been. It started off with a 50th anniversary celebrated with Massey alumni and ended with making the tough decision at the grad picnic about whether we wanted to hose down all the teachers with water guns or play ultimate frisbee. We've been through a lot together; the all nighters spent on projects, the procrastination, the questionable cafeteria food, the long hours after school for clubs and sports, trying to catch up on notes after you'd fallen behind: it's finally paying off. We can walk up to that scholarship office with confidence.

There is something unique about Massey. It doesn't have to do with how excited we got when we had our first official snow day in ten years. It doesn't involve teachers who have never taught you telling you to take out your headphones, or put away your cell phones or even following you around the school with a ruler to measure the length of your shorts. It's all of that combined and more. We ate lunch at the same table for four years. We've slept at each other's houses. And some of our parents know our friends just as well as they know us. We sacrificed our sleep to watch Jersey Shore together, we stuck by each other through heartbreak and we were there for each other when loved ones passed away. With a little help from my TI-84, I have calculated that we have spent 6,600 hours under the same roof together and that's just at school.

Reminiscing about all these things made me start to wonder what all our time spent here really adds up to. Will we remember the witty remarks and guidance from the teachers? Will we remember the winding function or Mr. Tran's perfect attendance? Will we remember who we sat next to in grade nine French or Hang's insect collection? There is something stronger and more valuable than any concept we could have learned in Chemistry. It is a special type of bond. It is not ionic but it is just as powerful. The gift of friendship is something that can never be taught. It is something that is experienced.

Oscar Wilde once wrote, "Education is an admirable thing, but it is well to remember from time to time that nothing worth knowing can be taught." The first time I read this I completely agreed. Never, in my entire life, will I need to know how to inverse the reciprocal of a parabola and I'm sure no one will ask me what the 6th step of the Krebs's cycle is. Unfortunately, that isn't what Oscar Wilde's point was. I think instead he was trying to let us all know that it's important to take a deep breath, clear our minds and understand that it's okay to have fun. Here at Massey, we most definitely lived by those words.

I'd like to take time to give thanks, not only for what we have accomplished but to those who have helped us all along this way. To our mentors, the wonderful teaching staff administration at Massey – Mrs. Salinitri you're one of a kind. Make no mistake – there are some characters who teach us, but if anything that doesn't take away from your greatness – it only adds to it. You've all taught us not only about the material for our credits but about life. On behalf of all the students in our graduating class we want to thank you for giving us four wonderful years. To our families, whether it be parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles or siblings: thank you for always taking care of us and supporting us – we'd likely be homeless without you.

To the graduates, there is no better advice I can give than to quote Rebecca Black – that was a joke, what I meant to say was the great Miss Frizzle from The Magic School Bus, "Take chances, make mistakes and get messy." Congratulations grads of 2011! This is our time to shine!

This year has been quite a mountain to climb. When we think back to this year, we may remember the hurdles we jumped over and the stress we felt during those sleepless nights; but we will definitely remember the little things – those walks through the hallways with our best friends in the morning, rushing to Timmies during lunch on warm summer days, helping someone out with last minute work at the school library, the inspiring teachers who made classes memorable, or those afternoon bus rides that made your day.

This edition of the yearbook tried to recapture those moments as vividly as possible, because even though pictures are worth a thousand words, the different nostalgic emotions that each individual feels when looking at a photo are needed to complete a memory. We hope you remember these for what they're worth to you.

2011 is another year of accomplishments for Massey Mustangs in both sports and academia. We've ran so fast on the fields that we could fly, and ranked top-notch in several math competitions nationwide. These feats of glory would, however, mean nothing without the memories we have weaved together with the Massey family.

The curtains are being closed upon this year, yet our thoughts will forever echo the perpetual sounds so distinct to a day at Massey. People will come and go, but you know what they say: once a Mustang, always a Mustang. These bonds made in high school can last forever, thanks to Facebook, Skype and unlimited text messaging. There is no reason for turning back – it's just one life, so play the hand you have.

Congratulations to the class of 2011; we wish you well in whatever endeavour you pursue in life.
