EINSTEIN, RICHARD PETTY, HIPPOCRATES, COLUMBUS, COPERNICUS have in common?

Bubble bursting.

Take Richard Petty. This concept bugged him: that Chrysler engineered cars didn't win long distance stock car races.

Petty, in his competition-equipped Plymouth, burst the whole bubble. He finished first in the 1964 Daytona 500—and set a new track record in the bargain! This was the first of many wins that made him the 1964 NASCAR Champion.

The Daytona race is tough. 500 miles around the fastest track in the world. It takes courage and stamina and engineering superiority to win that race. Superiority developed through years of research and testing on the proving grounds and in the laboratory. Engineering reflected in our 1965 showroom cars.

What bubbles bugged the others? Time is an absolute; evil spirits cause disease; the world is flat; the sun revolves around the earth. You knew that all along.

OUR PRINCIPAL

B. W. BROWN, B.A., M.E.

We enjoy a special privilege in belonging to Walkerville Collegiate.

But the only ones who think so are those who help to make it a good school. If we have made no contribution, all we see are its faults. And all students can help - not just the members of a championship basketball team or the top scholarship group. We do this by our daily work and behaviour and by joining in the activities the school has to offer. It is when we thus become part of the school that we know it is a privilege to belong to Walkerville Collegiate Institute.

WHAT IS SCHOOL FOR?

I believe that our school provides a good environment for teenagers.

Our twelve hundred odd pupils and teachers form a community which reflects the total of the efforts of all of us. It would be a perfect community only if all of us were perfect. It will improve or deteriorate as we, in character and in act, achieve or fail to achieve a better way of life. Each of us—pupil, teacher, principal—becomes "his brother's keeper" in this close-knit community, and an act which hurts one, hurts all; an act which helps one, helps all. As we gain from our experience in this community (or, we could say, as the pupils are educated) the prospects for each becomes better. We can look forward to a life which is richer, fuller, happier. This is the prime objective of our school. Pupils may incidentally be better prepared to earn a living, but first and foremost comes the necessity of learning to live.

I believe that our school provides a good environment for teenagers.

EDITORIAL

Earlier this year I attended the Student Press Symposium at the University of Windsor where I learned the fundamentals of how to produce a good yearbook. From the discussions heard there, I realized that a yearbook is supposed to be a "picture-book of memories". Adhering to this purpose, these last nine months have been spent in the preparation of this magazine, making sure that every student in this school has been accounted for and that no one has been left out of this book.

As you glance through the following pages I hope you will come across many pleasant memories of the preceding year; and, if in future years this book awakens in you even a vague recollection of the happy days you spent at Walkerville, then I will have succeeded as a yearbook editor.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I am very proud of this year's Blue and White and being editor has been a very rich and rewarding experience for me. Many thanks are due to my industrious and enthusiastic staff without whose combined effort the publication of this annual would not have been possible.

Thanks are also extended to:

Mr. Haggert—our staff advisor;

Wild Studios—our photographers;

My family who did all the typing;

Our advertisers—who made this book possible;

The student body of W.C.I. to whom we dedicate this 1965 Blue and White.

"New Look" — these two words best describe the 1965 Blue and White. A number of classes donated the space they had bought, enabling us to have four candid camera pages. The book was printed by the offset method. This is the first time the pictures have been "bled" — we feel this is more attractive, and it also saves space.

The 1964-65 budget was $3,380, and the dedicated work of Ann Korenich and Jennifer Lacy, advertising managers, who raised $1600, kept us in the black.

Rommel Masse, editor, headed the staff, and was assisted by Kim Graybiel, assistant editor.

The annual "Blue and White Bounce" was a great financial and social success, thanks to Art Lyon, and Kim Graybiel, co-convenors.

We hope you like the Blue and White — we've done our best to make it a souvenir of the 1964-65 school year.

AGORA

At the beginning of the new school year of 1964-65, the Rump Agora immediately assumed responsibilities for student activities. A Get Acquainted Dance was attended by many students of the school.

Shortly, the new Agora Executive was elected. Marilyn Bradley, Donna Tweedell and Susan Meredith were elected as Vice-president, Secretary and Treasurer respectively.

Walkerville re-adopted its foster child from Greece and proceeded in financing aid for Constantine. Mary Winterburn was in charge of all correspondence involving our Foster Child. Series of letters were written to Constantine by various grade nine classes.

The Agora sponsored an Activities Night in the fall and due to the cooperation of the students and staff it was a success.

Later in the fall, as examinations drew close, the annual semi-formal dance was held. The theme was "A Night in New York". Many thanks go to the Art Club members, Arlene Nicholson and Libby Havelock, who worked diligently to decorate the gymnasium. I would also like to show my appreciation to Mr. Bice and Miss Duda who gave up their time and energy to give aid to our efforts.

Walkerville took part in raising funds for the Red Feather and UNICEF campaigns. The staff aided the campaign by donating photographs for the baby contest.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Brown, Mr. Nighswander and Mrs. Lawson, who gave the Agora their full support, and to me the necessary guidance.

Feelings exceed expressions for my gratitude towards the Inner Executive members, Marilyn, Donna, Sue, Eva, Art, Mike, and Mary.

Last but not least, I would like to express my thanks to the student body since without their support the efforts of the Agora would have been futile.

THE HONOUR SOCIETY

The Honour Society was set up in 1959, and is an elite group of students of Walkerville. It was established to honour and encourage students to excel in academics, athletics, and various school organizations, hence developing a keener interest in the school, and developing leadership qualities, with points awarded accordingly.

- Standards for Membership: 100 pts.—Honour Society Crest.
175 pts.—Honour Society Ring.
250 pts.—A Special Trophy, picture mounted on wall.

Points must be accumulated in at least 3 of the 4 classifications, so members must be outstanding all-around students.

There are 68 members at the present time, of whom 33 are graduates. All current student members are listed. Anne Topping is the only student in the 250 bracket but several students are near this goal.

FOOTBALL 1964

This year's Tartans lacked that certain ingredient which transforms a good team into a championship team. Handicapped by a tough early season schedule and starting the season as favorites, we had an auspicious start, jolted by Herman and then losing a heartbreaking 1-0 decision to Vincent Massey.

At this point the team showed their poise and spirit, rebounding to whip their next four opponents by a composite score of 129-48. Our team possibly hit its peak too soon as it thrashed arch-rival Kennedy Clippers 38-7. The Tartans then lost a tough decision to Patterson who went on to win the W.S.S.A. championship.

The Tartan gridders played well as a unit and also had outstanding individuals, Ron Shulgan, Bob Anderson and Jon Hyslop were selected to the First All-City Team, and Ed Tremaine narrowly missed a well-deserved berth and was named to the second team.

Next year with the combination of Mr. Marchini's fine coaching, a nucleus of returning veterans and most important of all better school support, our Tartans will return to glory and capture the W.S.S.A. championship.

GOLF

Mr. Curry (coach), Doug Stewart,
Don Morgan, Richard Reader,
Tom Hartleib, Kim Graybiel.

GOLF

This year's W.S.S.A. golf tournament was held at the tough Beach Grove golf course. The five Walkerville team members were: Kim Graybiel, Tom Hartleib, Don Morgan, Doug Stewart, and Richard Reader. They had to settle for a fifth place finish in spite of a fine round by both Kim, and Tom.

All the team members, with the exception of Doug, will be returning next year. The team thanks Mr. Curry for his interest and coaching.

VOLLEYBALL

This year, there was a large turnout, especially from the lower grades. As a result, there were many new faces on the first string. The team played very well throughout the season and finished with a 4-4 record. Under the hands of Mr. Allison and Mr. Lindblad the team scored victories against Commerce, Patterson, Forster, and Lowe. We hope next year that the new experienced members of the team will help bring back the championship to Walkerville.

CROSS-COUNTRY 1964

This year's team, though losing three varsity members due to ineligibility, had great determination and continued the tradition of outstanding Tartan cross-country teams. Led by Jay Haddad and Kim Graybiel, the squad finished a close second in W.S.S.A. competition and bounced back to capture the S.W.O.S.S.A. Intermediate team championship. Haddad, Graybiel, Ray Anderson, Bob Thompson and Richard Reader represented Walkerville in Toronto in the Ontario championships. The team gained 7th place out of the 36 teams competing.

Our fine coach, Fred Montour spends a great deal of his time coaching the team. More upper-school members are needed. Come out and be a member of next year's championship team!

BOYS' CURLING

Early in December the boys' first team composed of skip Bryan Keen, third Cam Innes, second Scott Cowan and lead Barry Spooner won District 3 after winning 3 games. Next they travelled to Sarnia, where they beat Centralia in 3 straight games. On the 16th of January they travelled to Oshawa for the Ontario Schoolboy Finals where, after winning their first game, lost to last year's champions, Owen Sound. At S.W.O.S.S.A. with Richard Blake at lead the same team lost to this year's champions.

TRACK — 1964

Last year's Tartans, although not as powerful as a few years ago still provided formidable opposition in track and field. They also firmly entrenched themselves as the top power in distance events, and amassed a total of 6 new individual W.S.S.A. and S.W.O.S.S.A. records.

Team performances:

W.S.S.A. SENIOR—2nd Team—Dan Josin: 2nd, 100-yd. dash; 3rd, 220-yd. dash; 2nd, broad jump. Charles Meanwell: 1st, two-mile (record); 2nd, mile. Gord Wonsch: 1st, shot put (record); 2nd, javelin; 3rd, discus.

S.W.O.S.S.A. SENIOR—2nd Team—Dan Josin: runnerup individual champion.

W.S.S.A. INTERMEDIATE—4th Team—Kim Graybiel: 1st, mile; 4th, 880-yd. John Vaccratsis: 2nd, 120-yd. hurdles. Rich Williams: 1st, high jump.

W.S.S.A. JUNIOR—3rd Team—Rick Storrey: 1st, mile; 1st, 880-yd. (record). Jay Haddad: 2nd, mile. Paul Stewart: 2nd, 220-yd.; 4th, 100-yd.

SOCCER

Despite the enthusiasm and hard work of this year's young soccer team, they could not produce a win. However, even though the team could only manage a tie (Patterson) in the seven-game schedule the Tartan Kickers never lost by more than one or two goals. Now, with the valuable experience of one season behind them we hope that these novice players can help the veterans to produce a winning season next year. The team adds thanks to its capable coach, Mr. Altmeyer for his valuable instructions.

BOYS' SOCCER TEAM

BASKETBALL 1964-65

At the start of the season the Tartans seemed no better than the fifth best team in the strong Windsor Secondary Schools Athletic Association. But, jumping off to a quick start they were undefeated upon entering the University of Windsor Holiday Tournament. We beat Sir Adam Beck of London in the first round, then were eliminated by Corpus Christi Collegiate in the semi-finals. The Tartans finished off the rest of the regular season with six wins and five losses, looking far from champions.

Then they entered the W.S.S.A. semi-finals, underdogs to a strong Patterson team, which had whipped them just two weeks before. But in the tense, exciting clash the Tartans mustered a determined last half comeback to upset Patterson 53-50. The following night, Walkerville beat Herman and became W.S.S.A. champs for the first time in eight years.

With All-City members Jon Elcombe (first team), Bruce Goodbrand (second team), and Walt Lozynsky, John Basich and Captain Joe Cipparone in the starting lineup the Tartans copped the S.W.O.S.S.A. crown the following week, again beating Herman.

Walkerville fought its way past St. John's of Brantford and Adam Beck of London into the Ontario finals only to be beaten in a tremendous championship game, 43-40 by Hamilton Hill Park.

Mr. Armstrong should be commended for his fine coaching in his first season, and although he will not be returning next year, he has built up a solid nucleus of returning players who should give the Tartans a fine chance to defend their title successfully next season.

This year's Tartan Tennis Team didn't make the sports pages' headlines, but it was a strong squad. Meg Johnson and Dianne Berkeley captured the Girls' Doubles title in the W.S.S.A. tournament. Creditable performances were turned in by Carol Ashwell and Reed Smith and Patty Green and Bryan Keen (mixed doubles); Kim Graybiel and Scott Cowan and Jay Haddad and Jim Fletcher (boys' doubles); Linda Keane in Girls' Singles; and Wendy Steele and Elaine Baldwin who battled Meg and Dianne in the Girls' Doubles final. Next year, most of the team will be returning, and prospects for a few more W.S.S.A. champions are bright.

GIRLS' TRACK, 1963-64

Last season the girls' track team was most successful. The Juniors won both the W.S.S.A. and S.W.O.S.S.A. championships, and the Intermediates captured the S.W.O.S.S.A. title in a close contest between Walkerville and Kennedy. Although the Seniors did not win they put up a good fight.

Barbara Stewart won the W.S.S.A. and S.W.O.S.S.A. Junior Girls' Individual Championship. She established two new records at S.W.O.S.S.A. and tied a third.

New S.W.O.S.S.A. records were set by the following: Eva Kalman who broke the old record of 4'6" in Intermediate High Jump and set a new record of 4'9". The Intermediate girls' 440 relay team beat the old record of 54.7 sec. and established the new record of 51.5 sec.

Thanks go to Miss Wright for her excellent job as coach, and congratulations to the team for their outstanding success this year.

This year's Senior Girls' Volleyball Team went to the S.W.O.S.S.A. finals at Riverside. The team had an uncertain first string consisting of Kate Innes (capt.), Cathy Meanwell, Kathy Thompson, Lynn Anderson, Marijean Stewart, Janis Craig, Patty Green and Eva Kalman. At the S.W.O.S.S.A. meet they were defeated by Kennedy in an extremely close game. Next year with most of our team members back Kennedy will have trouble defending her championship. Thanks goes to Miss Parkinson for her wonderful coaching, and to the members of the team.

JUNIOR GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL TEAM

This season our Junior Girls' Volleyball Team came very close to winning the W.S.S.A. and the S.W.O.S.S.A. Championships. However they were edged out by Kennedy. When Kennedy and Walkerville tied for a place in the semi-finals, Kennedy was successful. Next year with most of the team back we will have a good chance to win the championship. The first string consisted of Nancy Marshall (captain), Carol Ann Vendrasco, Heather Berkeley, Barb Stewart, Cathy Whiteside, Barb MacLennan, and Bonnie Hutton. Miss Shillington and the girls are to be congratulated for an excellent season.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

The 1964-65 season was a good one for the girls' basketball team. Fighting their way into the semi-finals they met defeat at the hands of the Patterson Panthers 32-39 in overtime. The sportsmanship displayed by the girls was excellent and never at anytime did they show any signs of lack of interest or enthusiasm. Special recommendation goes to Patty Green our high scorer, Cathy Meanwell, Mary Lynn Anderson (captain) and the two Stewart sisters. The guards held our opposition to only 196 points. Miss Parkinson was a constant asset to the team and because of this she deserves a great vote of thanks from everyone.

GIRLS' CURLING TEAM

The Walkerville Girls Curling Team was very successful this year. The team consisted of Susan Rider, skip; Susan Meredith, vice-skip; Margie Anderson, second; and Marilyn Haddad, lead. Walkerville defeated Blenheim, Leamington, and Chatham, to win the S.W.O.S.S.A. championship.

GIRLS' SWIMMING

This year Girls' Swimming Teams were very successful at the meet held at the Riverside pool. The Junior Girls' teams won the W.S.S.A. championship and Susan Sanderson was the individual junior champion. Joan Sanderson also put forth an outstanding performance. The Senior team placed second due to the aquatic abilities of Mary Lynn Anderson, Cathy Meanwell, Janie Craig and others. Meg Innes won the junior girl's individual style championship. All this was made possible through the excellent coaching of Miss Wright and Miss Shillington.

SUCCESS

Today I weep; but in the uncertainty of my Tomorrow, I see a time . . . And the tree of my being
 Shall loose the ripe fruit of fulfillment; the wing
 Of dear delight shall bear me upwards to
 The noon day of my ecstasy; And
 The river of sorrow shall not pass my door.
 Then will all these faded dreams grow roses,
 And whip-poor-wills will sing of sweet success;
 Yet but a little while . . .
 For nurtured bliss but a temoral thing, which Flees when cultivated by ambition's hand, or Fades into the embers of discontent.
 And what is left but memories of such happiness,
 And what remains but shadows of your joy?

NO BEGINNING, NO END

I stand at the shore fearsome of my unworldly vision.
 The waves escape. Smash, and die.
 Their peoples follow them anticipating only to be crushed.
 Fini.
 Why do they follow when their destination is proved?
 See for yourself.
 Corruption is angry. He lunges down annihilating his disciples,
 After corruption is a lull as is the waves.
 Reality comes with the virgin raindrops,
 I feel the freshness and the awareness of hope.
 As day follows night.

 the complacent housewife swears o'er Nevertheless, we love it! Give us profanity, we want sarcasm, let us swear at the people we abhor.
 We, as human beings, possess many undeniable rights which we exercise to the fullest,
 And I don't think I would be trespassing when I say swearing is the commonest,
 To this end I present you these samples
 And hope you see yourselves as examples.
 Take the "traffic jammed" man, how he enhances his vocabulary,
 While the women in the preceding car hail the closest "constabulary",
 Nor disregard the dishevelled "5:30" grocery shoppers
 Racing their carts through the multitudes of bread and lamb choppers.
 The woman on the street swears, her little children swear
 (They think it's French)
 The Canadians, the Separatists, they swear at each other, the Americans secretly curse their stench,
 Meanwhile provincial premiers call open season
 on Ottawians,
 And Lester B. is voted the person most likely to be cursed on;
 There ought to be a law against people swearing,
 The same as they restrict what people are wearing,
 heaven knows—is not in the dictionary,
 but does the little kid across the street know it?
 The way he cusses at the postman, the milkman and the neighbourhood fix-it,
 You'd think education rather ragged, or the educators a bit illicit.
 If I could speak dog language I am sure I would find,
 That under each bark was a monosyllable word
 unrefined!
 Oh well, so goes the world, no man will ever stop it
 Only Webster and T. Barnhart will be able to draw profit.

THE DRIFTER

He was just a weatherbeaten, old soul who drifted in the tide of time like a tumbleweed in the wind. While I gazed at him, he sat there quiet and aloof, only noting my presence with a flick of his eyes, his tired, blue eyes.

Beneath an ancient, hole-ridden straw-hat, a tangled ring of sweat-soaked, iron-gray hair outlined the prospector's face. His leathery, gnarled features were worn, and rippled as if carved by the wind. His tall forehead, contoured with wrinkles, gave evidence of his constant squinting into the hot sun or into the far horizon. But nothing was really important about his face except the eyes, the tired, blue eyes. They seemed to be the key to his whole character.

There he sat on a rock as if he were a figure in a painting. Behind him was the desolate, wind-battered Colorado Desert with its faded reds and burnt browns. The sky was a burning blue in which hung ne'er a cloud. As the old prospector sat there, his eyes scanning the mesas of this silent, immobile world, I began to wonder about his past. Were there any "old glories" he could relive at night while staring into the campfire, or were there memories only of trials and tribulations? I wondered about the blackened calluses on his gaunt hands. I wondered how many times he had swung his pick over his head, and how many times it had been in vain.

The sun began to set and reluctantly I knew that I had to leave. Without a word I turned and walked away. On an impulse I whipped around; yes, he was still there. Suddenly the wind arose, howling and catapulting sand in all directions. I wondered where it would blow the tumbleweed next?

REVENGE

"There he is crouching like a dog in the corner. Let's beat him, knife him, and pound his inferiority into his dark head. How dare he walk so closely behind us? How dare he inhale the very air we breathe?"

This is the solemn testimony of the "white gods" of our earth. The war between the men of light skin and those of charcoal black had long ago planted a seed in our society and way of life. This seed has been nourished by the constant rains of terror and has grown strong with the abundant rays of heat from that forever glowing flame of hate that man calls his soul.

From the time when negroes were harnessed to toil and slave like wild beasts guided by cruel whips to the position in society where they are led by injustice and hate, the fire of revenge has been kindling in their hearts. For a negro's hunger is not to be replenished at any nearby restaurant; a negro's thirst, is not to be quenched at just any water fountain; a negro's child is not to find security and warmth in the outside world. Man was born to live as a unit and die as a unit. Simply because some are born with skin of a different colour, must they be cut off this circle of life, separated like exiles to live alone among their own kind?

Let us picture a little scene with children playing and laughing and enjoying life. Then let us visualize our very own child, coloured black, shyly walking towards the grand circle of merriment and bright colours. He tries to enter into this beating heart of life but no doorway opens to him. Suddenly the background and joyous colours become blurry and begin to fade slowly out of sight. We see our black child standing alone in a grey room with grey walls and a grey ceiling. We sadly watch his glistening tears; we listen to the laughter echoing in the far distance; we hide ourselves from the hurt and sorrow flickering in his eyes. He does not understand that those merry, white children should not be blamed. He can not know that an atom of hate has been passed down to those children from generation to generation long before he had been given a chance to prove himself before the eyes of everyone, a chance to show that he is equal.

The flame of pride in his spirit, guarded by every man, slowly fades and dies. But in its place a new light glows in his body. This is a light which sends its rays to every organ and to every cell. But his body is too strong to contain and guide this fire in his soul. It fills his very being with a new pride, a warm desire that heats him and helps him through all his cold and torturing trails. The flames in different souls will unite and from this will spring a light that will blind the earth. The negro will prove his equality. He will have his revenge.

A VIEW FROM THE BRIDGE

From my perch on the middle of the Ambassador Bridge I can look around me and see the continual ebb and flow of life beneath me.

As I lean against the cold unyielding grey railing of the bridge I try to forget the problems pressing on my mind as I view the ball of fire emerging from the river. As it gains altitude in the crisp November air, it washes the lapis sky with a replendent red hue, and tones down this colour with a yellow tinge.

With a turn of my head to the right I can see city lights twinkling in the darkness, like fireflies in a hedge. Soon the grey city seems to waken from its short-lived slumber and sits up to take stock of the new day. Shortly thereafter, the grey ribbons of roads are dotted with cars, moving like an army of ants. They move quickly, their huge eyes burning with excitement.

The factories which squat along both sides of the river bank soon awaken like a tribe of Indians. The smoke-stacks in Windsor send up a puffy message to the receiving factories in Detroit. Presently the recipients signal back their equally puffy answer. The two tribes continue in this way and soon the sky becomes clouded, thereby concealing both senders and receivers, and their messages become a constant stream of smoke drifting upwards.

I turn my eyes from the cities and look to the river beneath me. Four steam-ships, like large canoes, pass by deftly in Indian file. They move without a sound and steal into the distance, perhaps hiding around the bend.

A regiment of noisy tug-boats take up pursuit of these stealthy craft. They move down the river like huge turtles as they chug along. Their presence does not go by unnoticed, for even the cars are up on the bridge to see what the noise is all about. But they do not stay for long. They pass by me quickly and soon the tugs too, have disappeared.

By this time the sun has supremely established itself in the sky above the menial clouds which once hid it. I no longer care to remain here, and so I hastily walk down the ramp. It leads to the world which I had tried to escape from momentarily, but I realize that what I saw was all an integral part of the life around me. Thus I walked down with an open mind and greeted the city.

Wind rustled tall grass and tangled vines where the rabbit snuffled and nibbled among the sun-dried herbs. It was autumn and the multi-coloured leaves fell from the gnarled old oaks in bright showers. The rabbit was out foraging for food to prepare for the long hard winter ahead. But there were many dangers around him. The predators were like demons haunting him. They would take any opportunity to tear him to pieces.

The rabbit walked cautiously like a soldier walking through a minefield; one unwary step would be his last. He crossed back and forth across the grass covered meadow in search of more food. Then he froze; he had heard something. He sat motionless as the weasel passed. The weasel's body seemed to glide over the earth like some serpent. His blood red eyes flashed greedily at the thought of the coming meal. His mouth hung open and his tongue drooled at the thought of the rabbit whose trail he was on. After the weasel had passed, the rabbit stole back into some bushes and curled up in a ball and went to sleep.

He did not sleep long though for he was awakened by a rustling outside the bushes. It was the weasel. The rabbit was out of the bushes like a gunshot. He bounded through the grass as if the very devil were after him. The rabbit dodged back and forth in an effort to shake off his pursuer. Then he tried to double back, but the weasel was waiting for him. The rabbit gave a scream and it was all over. The weasel shook him like a terrier shaking a rat. The weasel stood triumphantly over his prize, gloating over an easy kill. His red eyes gleamed, and blood dripped down his muzzle. He tore out his victim's throat and sucked greedily at the blood which gushed out like a geyser and flowed in rivers down the rabbit's torn throat and over the already blood-soaked ground. The morning found the mangled and bloodied carcass the scene of another tragedy. The weasel had been so busy eating that he had not seen the huge hawk, and now his blood too flowed beside that of his victim's. The hawk had devoured the weasel so that now all that was left of him were a few bones and a bloody and worthless pelt. In spite of this, the winter came and went and there were more rabbits and more weasels to continue the struggle.

THE ROOM

It was a warm room, one that had been lived in despite its enormity. The walls were high and towering, reaching for the domed ceiling, their linking sealing the vast library. The floors had nary a scuff on their shining faces, the fragile and antique furniture was placed gently upon it like regal thrones. His chair was there. Sir Thomas Graham's favourite retiring place. Lady Monica, his graceful and poised wife, had never missed bringing his tea and brandy to this familiar parlour.

Sir Thomas was a sophisticated man, mayor of the busy French town of Rommel. He was indeed a handsome lad, but his witty and sarcastic personality invited hate and despite from the poor peasants. Lady Monica was strikingly beautiful, and it was a mystery as to how she could tolerate living with Sir Thomas, who was only interested in riches.

Her very presence seemed to cause the house to sing in reply to her dancing heart. The windows beamed, their sparkle like a glow in one's eyes.

War began! Sir Thomas although weak in heart was summoned. People mocked and ridiculed him, sarcastically bidding him their best, in his attempt to be a real man.

Two weary, struggling years later, a letter was delivered to Lady Monica. The woman, now very thin and petite, was horrified. Sir Thomas Graham had gallantly given his life.

His last words were, "My dear Monica, I am truly sorry for being the selfish one. I placed riches before our love. Please for . . ." Heart broken, Lady Monica took one last look at the library, at his regal chair. The enormous room was warm; it was once lived in, but now it was vacant. Their pictures still hung on the wall, but the smiling faces had a forlorn look about them.

Love was stronger than riches, but they had found out too late.

SECRETARIES

I am sure that if the secretaries had the opportunity, they would hustle into Mr. Brown's office and hand in their resignation but unfortunately, they are kept too busy adding figures, fixing up time tables, making announcements, and typing out notices and letters. Even if they had the chance I don't think we could accept their resignation for where else could we find such fun-loving, understanding, co-operative, and hard-working secretaries.

On behalf of the student body we would like to thank Mrs. B. Hanna, Pat McMullen and Zilda McKelvie for your help.

MAINTENANCE STAFF

Again this year, the maintenance staff has been kept busy by finding lost shoes, books, gym suits, etc. and by keeping the building clean and warm. Their jobs are innumerable and we are unable to mention them all but we would like to thank Marcella Allevato, Jim Brown, Victorio Di Pietro, Robert Green, Yuri Toroshenko, Tom Collins and Paul Bunjar and let them know that we appreciate every thing that they have done for us.

We would like to extend our farewells to Peter Karlechuk who has left us after many years service.

HISTORY AND U.N. CLUB

Last year the History and U.N. Club got off to a slow start, but with a depressing lack of membership, the club still sent a delegation to the Model United Nations at the University of Detroit. The main purpose of the club is to prepare for M.U.N., forming a study of the country which the school's delegation represents. Last year our delegates successfully represented Burma. This year through much work the club has managed to find 10 persons interested in representing the school in this international affair. Our delegates this year will represent Spain and Trinidad Tobago. We feel that somehow Canadian students lack interest in world affairs, thus causing our lack of membership, while our neighbouring American Cousins have up to 75 students in view for the 5 positions on a delegation. In conclusion I hope that in the following school year more students will take an active interest in world affairs so that W.C.I. will be able to say she has sent her cream of the crop to represent her at the Model U.N. rather than having to beg students to become members.

UNITED NATIONS TRIP, 1964

"Since wars begin in the mind of men, it is in the minds of men that the defences of peace must be constructed."

It was perhaps with this thought that the Board of Education sent twelve students and one chaperon to the United Nations last December. I was fortunate enough to be one of those students. For four days we saw New York and the U.N. in particular. It was here in the United Nations that we received our first lessons in international co-operation for world fraternity and peace. We heard Poland, Guatemala and Kenya make strong speeches expressing their diverse opinions.

This whole experience at the U.N. was stimulating and worthwhile. I sincerely hope to be able to help my fellow students with what I have learned.

THE MATH CLUB

Now in its third year of existence at W.C.L., the Math Club 207 under the guidance of Mr. Lozynski, is busily making plans for the future. Members hope to visit other math clubs in the vicinity to discuss new mathematics problems and get to know students from other schools. In the past two years, the Club visited the Mathematics Department of the University of Windsor to see computer operations, and entered interesting projects at the Windsor Science Fair. The M.C. 207 has always taken great pleasure in the decorating of the Christmas tree in the front hall as the members made the decorations themselves. All the students in the Math Club feel that the association with other girls and boys and the new methods solving math problems, makes membership in the Club a rewarding experience. We hope that the Club will keep up its good work for years to come.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY

This year the dramatic society is producing William Shakespeare's comedy, "Twelfth Night". We hope that it will be even more of a success than last year's play.

The club is running smoothly with Mr. Thomas as director, Miss Demarco producer, Bill Asselstine president, and Marilyn Haddad as secretary. The society again consists of two essential groups, the cast and the set construction crew under the direction of Mr. Wm. Sandford, the resident stage manager of Windsor Little Theatre.

The play this year necessitates a large cast, and thus gives an opportunity for many Walkerville students to participate. Our players in this production are: Bill Asselstine, John Callard, Rommel Masse, Pete Minnis, Bob Asselstine, Pete Asselstine, Bill Irving, Joe Stewart, Paul Luborsky, David Lameck, Connie Clarkson, Maureen Forbes, Kathy Seagull and Barbara Letourneau as prompter.

The stage crew was co-operative and worked very hard to make the scenery required. Assisting behind the stage are: Jimmy Smith, Barbara Long, Jim MacDonald, Gord Mepham, Cathy Cernauskas, Mary Boyd, Susan MacDonald, Mary Clark and Janis Clarke.

I am sure that the dramatic society enjoyed making "Twelfth Night", possible this year and will endeavour to establish good drama in Walkerville in the future.

DRAMA CLUB EXECUTIVE

THE DANCE BAND

For the first time in Walkerville's history we have had an official dance band. This group, brought together under Mr. Curry's direction, practiced regularly throughout the year presenting several programs to the school. The eighteen members of this organization benefited greatly from Mr. Curry's guidance and are looking forward to reorganizing next year.

DANCE BAND

On Their Merit

Young men attending the Canadian Services Colleges and Canadian universities under the tri-service Regular Officer Training Plan (ROTP) train for challenging and rewarding careers as officers in Canada's Armed Forces. High school graduates of Senior Matriculation or Junior Matriculation standing qualify for entrance on a competitive basis. These young men are selected and will advance on one basis alone—ON THEIR MERIT.

C.O.'s MESSAGE

In the five years that I have been associated with the Cadet movement I have often heard asked the question, "What good is Cadets anyway?" Indeed, in this particular school, the common opinion of the student body has been that "the only value of Cadets is the sponsoring of the highlight of the social year at W.C.I., the annual Military Ball. If my sole accomplishment this year has been only to explode this myth, then I am satisfied.

Our Cadet Corps, through its individual members and its renowned Pipe Band, has represented W.C.I. at National Cadet Camps held at Banff, Alta. The corps is the only group in the school which affords our students the opportunity of meeting other students from all across Canada.

Last Summer it was my privilege to represent this school and Canada in a Cadet exchange program with Barbados, West Indies. There is no doubt that we shall continue to participate actively in this new and growing phase of Cadet training.

The Cadet Corps provides the chance for those interested to learn marksmanship and weapon safety, first aid, radio-signals, musical skills, and leadership qualities. However, what about those boys who do not seek out this specialized training? What "good" is the Cadet organization to them?

A great majority of the boys in this school never join in any activity, they do nothing for the school, and thus it does nothing for them. It is for these young men that the Cadet Corps has its greatest importance. The corps gives every boy at least one night in a year when he may excel for his school and for himself, regardless of his scholastic or athletic abilities.

This, in the final analysis, is the true worth of "Cadets" in Walkerville Collegiate. Through our corps, all boys have the chance for a moment of pride and a sense of accomplishment in their school, and themselves.

SIGNAL CORPS

"Never have so few served so many so futilely," were the immortal words of Mr. Kupnicki. Twice a week in room 309 this truism could be seen in practice. Nevertheless, last year under the tutelage of the aforementioned, many cadets qualified for cash awards. Varied tours of dubious interest were made. Our motto—"We never steal, just borrow, if it can be done honestly."

THE GIRLS' FIFE & DRUM BAND

Although the military fife dates back to 1555, W.C.I.'s contribution to fife life began this year with Mr. Hockey's organization—the Girls' Fife and Drum Corps. Twenty-four fifers and sixteen drummers comprise the corps.

Last Fall several girls, eager not to let the fife band remain a pipe dream, bought their own instruments. A successful car wash and chocolate bar sale led to the purchase of more equipment.

With Cathy Cernauskas as Fife-Major and Beverly Lossing as lead drummer, the girls find that "fifing" is fun.

SOCIAL EVENTS

School got off to a rather slow start this year but more important, it got off to a start!

Nothing out of the ordinary took place in the first month of school as we had the usual cheer rally which called the attention of the police and fire departments and the usual initiations which left the poor Grade Niners in a state of shock for the first month. On September 26, things started to move as the Grade Niners and the rest of the school "got acquainted" at our annual "Get Acquainted" dance. On Monday, September 28, elections were held for the inner executive of the Agora in which Sadiq Hasnain was elected President, Marilyn Bradley Vice-President, and Susan Meridith Treasurer.

On the weekend of Friday and Saturday, October 23 and 24, Walkerville sent six of our girls to Toronto to take part in a display of basketball and gymnastics. Those included were Cathy Meanwell, Marijean Stewart, Mary Lynn Anderson, Kate Innes, Janis Craig, and Kathy Thompson.

On Saturday, November 14, Walkerville had its first semi-formal dance entitled "A Night in New York" and it was a roundabout.

Our exams halted our dance swing and our football enthusiasm, but they were soon over on November 30, and the school turned to basketball.

On Monday, December 21, our Grade 13 Graduation ceremonies took place in the auditorium. Brian Spooner presented an excellent valedictory speech addressing his former classmates of 1963-64.

The Christmas holidays then came which brought a sigh of relief to almost everyone, and on Christmas Day, Santa Claus in the form of the Walkerville students visited a fatherless family of seven. This was indeed a very kind gesture on the part of Walkerville. On Saturday, January 10, 1965, our boys' curling team went to Oshawa to compete in the Ontario Championships. They made an excellent showing but lost to the previous champions in the final round. Congratulations!

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 4, 5 and 6, our Drama Society presented its annual performance entitled "Twelfth Night", by William Shakespeare. Congratulations to Mr. Thomas and Miss De Marco for a very fine display of drama.

On Monday, February 15, Mr. Allison, along with Mr. Brown and the colour party, commenced ceremonies to officially raise our new flag (however way that may be). A special mention must be made of our W.S.S.A. and S.W.O.S.S.A. Senior Varsity Basketball champions. Mr. Armstrong led the team all the way to the W.S.S.A. and S.W.O.S.S.A. championships. We were runners-up to Hill Park High School from Hamilton in the O.F.S.S.A. "Golden Ball" Tournament.

Our annual Rhapsody in Blue and White is scheduled for April 9 and 10, and our annual Military Ball is scheduled for May 8. It has been a good year here at W.C.I., and we only hope that this year's Blue and White helped to make it so.

A LETTER FROM 9G

9G

Dear Mommy and Daddy,

I had a wonderful time at the circus, and have just returned. Mr. HOCKEY stepped smartly forward and announced the greatest class on earth.

The strongman, BILL, N., amazed all with his rippling biceps, and his body-guard JOHN J. was armed with a dangerous looking brief-case.

The clowns, BONNIE and PHIL, had everyone in stitches; even RICK, who was coming apart. The Flying Five Minus Three, ARLENE and GEORGE, were trapeze artists, angelic enough to deserve wings. As for entertainment, a run-away Beatle, DAN B., drew the female category. A side chorus consisted of a lovely duet, CAROL M. and CAROL A.

The magician, DICK S. performed an incredible trick with his assistant Miss SYLVIA C., on their way into the tunnel of love. When SYLVIA disappeared DICK came out with ABBY and ROBERTA.

Swami KWAPISZ, a fortune-teller, read the dainty palms of GARTH, PETER, LOUIS and MIKE; she foretold how they would eventually become great Romeos.

The main attractions were two Martins from Mars. Although unexpected, MARY and WAYNE proved to be quite friendly as they even offered to use their ray guns on us.

Under the Big Top, we mistook SANDY and NANCY for two cute elfs. Under the cautious eye of our big man TOM BOYD, we kept track of them. Of course, TOM'S eye did wander and follow the pretty little . . .

Being shot from a cannon was DINO. He almost hit the net. Leading in the elephants, the trunks tight about their tiny waists, were KAREN, HEDY, JO-ANNE, SUZY, and BARB. Their lifetime ambitions had always been to be just like Tarzan.

Reckless ROB, eager to spend his nickel, bought some CANDY. Yes, CANDY was a good friend of ours, and we'll never forgive ROB for devouring her so greedily.

Of course, PAUL W. and TIM, olympic track stars, were a special attraction. It was quite an experience to observe their speedy game of musical chairs.

Last of all, CHRIS had a flattering southern drawl. He faithfully guarded the prized MAT-ICUIKIAN, the most interesting, odd, different, or whatever you may call it, character in the circus.

Lovingly,
Your Pride and Joy.

Depends on what you do with it! It could become a prize rooster, get top billing in a fricassee—or end up as a splatter on the floor. The possibilities are unlimited—the egg is just a start. Like university. You discover as you go along the endless possibilities an advanced education can bring. But you have to make a start—and not everyone can afford that. That's why the General Motors companies in Canada award 25 scholarships each year ranging in value up to $2,000 to help deserving students. More than 200 scholarships have been awarded since this programme began in 1955. Grants, too, are given to the universities themselves. Students can choose from any of 14 participating universities, pick the faculty they like, prepare in their own way to take their place in Canada's future. Life isn't always served sunny side up—but the GM scholarship plan can help.

Applications for General Motors Scholarship should be directed to the Registrars of the following participating universities: The University of Toronto; The University of Western Ontario, London; Queen's University, Kingston; The University of Montreal; The University of Manitoba, Winnipeg; The University of British Columbia, Vancouver; The University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon; The University of Alberta, Edmonton; The University of New Brunswick, Fredericton; Laval University, Quebec City; McGill University, Montreal; Memorial University, St. John's, Newfoundland; Dalhousie University, Halifax; and McMaster University, Hamilton.
