And you Thought

Walkerville At

You see, if you hit the bongo enough times, the cover will break and out comes the candy!

Dragan : "Can I join in the fun?!"
Eli : "Sorry, this is s solo mission!"

Ah - Gross!

Why don't you just eat the camera?

You mush the grapes to make the VINO!

We'd Forget !!!!

It's Best !!!

Yeah... You wish Al!!!!

One of Mansons' "beautiful people"

Steve : "My panyhose are riding up!"
Adam : "I've got it under control, if you know what I mean!"

Looking for the Grade 9
It's in there!

Oh my gosh, they finally let me out!

Walkerville caught off guard!!!

I'm too sexy!!

Well maybe just one more autograph!

AHH- Attack of the 50 ft. woman!!

What do you mean don't touch the controller and the fogger at the same time??

I think I can
I think I can!

No SEX in the library!!

This is what happens when blondes have too much fun!!

SHH- Don't tell Del B!!!

What is Spam??

80% of the Walkerville population say that Spam is cheap imitation meat.

10% of the Walkerville population say that Spam is a spray to make pans non stick.

Here is what the other 10% say:

John Gibson - "Spam is green jello!"

Yusef Graff - "It is my breakfast, lunch and dinner!"

Chris Marentette - "The basis for the best comedy skit from Monty Python."

Lindsay Page - "Spam is some kind of paste."

Jenn Katt - "Kitchen stuff."

Devon Young - "Expensive dog food."

Brandie Chevalier - "spagetti noodles."

Krystal Brandt - "A cleaning thing."

Amanda Salden - "Spray on veggie oil."

Chris Clark - "Something I play with."

Melissa Federman - "Something positively, absolutely mysterious."

Amiee Melmer - "I dunno a hair shampoo?"

Adam Currie - "Too much for a snack, but not good enough for a turkey dinner."

Muffy Klapowich - "A delicious substance an added bonus it's pink."

Principal's Message

Much has happened since I wrote me message for last year's yearbook. In May of last year, Walkerville Collegiate Institute celebrated its 75th anniversary by holding a reunion at the school. More than 2100 former Tartans, students and staff, returned for this event, which according to all who attended, was an outstanding success. Thanks to the senerosity of former students and staff, the school's scholarship fund benefited by more than $20,000; in addition, an illuminated sign will be erected on our front lawn. The reunion committee, chaired by Ken Dafoe, deserves our thanks and congratulations for a superb reunion.

In October, Walkerville teachers and support staff were part of the province-wide education workers' political protest, which closed schools for two weeks. The Walkerville staff certainly presented a united front against the proposed government changes. Because principals and vice-principals across the province participated in the protest, the government passed legislation to remove principals and vice-principals from the teachers' federation.

In March of this year, the government announced some of its long awaited changes to education. There is no doubt that the next two years will see some of the most signigcant changes in education that we have seen in the last 30 years. Whether these changes will improve the system or not remains to be seen.

We were saddened to learn in March that Mrs. Mary Fran Burke, our former head of Guidance, who had been ill for more than a year, had died. Our sympathies go to Mrs. Burke's husband and family.

Throughout this turbulence, some things have stayed the same. Many Walkerville students continued to excel academically, at athletically, and in the arts. At Christmas, a canned food drive produced more than 3200 cans, which were donated to St. Mary's Church Food Program for distribution to people in need in the community. Good things happen at Walkerville!

In June this year, our vice principal, Mr. Bondy, is retiring. I would like to thank him for his contributions to Walkerville and wish him a long, healthy, and happy retirement. Thanks must go out to Sarah Dixon and her committee for producing this year's yearbook.

Hundreds of hours go into the production of this book, most of them behind the scenes. The hours are long, the pay is terrible, and there are hundreds of critics ready to point out what they don't like. In spite of this, Sarah has gone about her job with patience, dedication, and class; she and her committee have produced a yearbook of which to be proud. Thanks for a job well done.

Congratulations to all graduating students. As you leave Walkerville, may you take with you not only the knowledge and skills that you learned, but also fond memories of this school and an attitude that you will never settle for less than your best.

Vice Principal's Message

TO THE STUDENTS AND STAFF.....

I hope you enjoyed a successful and rewarding year. I have had the opportunity of forging new friendships and enjoying new experiences and hopefully to have helped many face the enjoyment of education.

I thank the staff and students who have led in all aspects of school life, who have shown the way by bringing prided not only to their families, friends and the school but to themselves. I thank and congratulate the graduated who, through perseverance and dedication are successful in their endeavours.

Through this excellent year book, we can look back and enjoy fond memories about the school year.

May the staff and students always find success and happiness in the future!

Editor's Notes

Working on this years' yearbook has been a real experience for me. It has taken a lot of hard work and dedication to produce this book. I believe that after all the time, discomfort of no living room or bedroom and self sacrifices it was well worth it. This has been a year that I will never ever forget. I hope that next years' yearbook will better than this years. I also hope to get a better turn out for the committee, remember your yearbook is what you make it. Special thanks to all those who helped put out this book. Many thanks to my personal friends for putting up with me and for your support and help.

- Martha Turner

When I was given the opportunity to be editor of Walkerville's year book, I didn't know exactly what I was getting into. What I knew was that it would take A LOT of hard work, dedication and team work, to supply my peers with a year book that they would be happy with. With some personal health problems at the begining of the year, it was a little harder than we thought to get the year book up and rolling. But thanks to my very helpful advisor Martha she kept things on track and orginized when it would have otherwise fallen apart at the seams. She also was patient with me when i'd get stressed out when dead lines crept closer. I'd also like to thank Mrs. Krenz for all of her advice, guidance and encouragment when we needed it most. She also gave up a rather large part of her office and time with no questions asked. A great big thanks goes out to the secretaries for putting up with us and making countless copies, phone calls, announcements and for just being there when we needed them. I'd like to thank Dave Taylor, who with out his patience, artistic ideas and making deadlines on short notice our title pages would be nothing but words on a page. I'd like to thank J.M., C.F., S.D., S.P., J.M., R.L., M.A., H.L., and anyone else who I forgot to mention for all their help and hard work, with out you the year book would have never been possible. I would also like to thank all of you who took pictures for us, and us gave ideas. Being Walkerville's editor allowed me to give something back to Walkerville. I hope as you turn each page, that it will recall, some special memory that you just may have forgotten. The poem on the right is directed to the Graduating students who will hopefully be able to follow their dreams and hopefully leave some impact on this earth, and may you never lose ties with Walkerville. Good bye and good luck!

Your Editor,
Sarah M. Dixon

Oh very young, What will you leave us this time
You're only dancing on this earth, For a short time
And though your dreams may toss, And turn you now
Like your daddy's best jeans, Denim blue fading up to the sky
And though you want him to last, Forever you know he never will
(You know he never will)

And the patches, Make the good bye harder still
Oh very young, What will you leave us this time
There'll never be a better chance, To change your mind
And if you want this world, To see (a better day)
Will you carry, The words of love with you
Will you ride, The great white bird into heaven
And though you want to last, Forever you know you never will
(You know you never will)

And the good bye, Makes the journey harder still
Oh very young, What will you leave us this time
You're only dancing on this earth, For a short while
Oh very young, What will you leave us this time
Oh very young

-Cat Stevens
